Tax Expenditure Budget - Introduction

While taxes are an essential source of revenue for all state governments, the manner in which they are imposed varies widely from state to state. In its simplest form, a tax is an across-the-board levy on a base, such as income, to which a specific rate applies and for which no modifications exist. In practice, taxes are rarely levied in this manner. Instead, most state tax codes incorporate a number of exemptions, deductions, credits, and deferrals designed to encourage certain taxpayer activities or to limit the tax burden on certain types of individuals or endeavors. Known as "tax expenditures", these provisions can have a significant impact on state tax revenues.

This document offers a summary of the tax expenditures affecting the taxes from which Massachusetts derives the bulk of its revenues: the personal income tax, the corporate excise and other business excises, and the sales and use tax. It also provides revenue estimate for each tax expenditure, as mandated by Massachusetts state law. Organized into five separate sections, this study analyzes all aspects of Massachusetts tax expenditures. Part I contains a detailed explanation of how we identify and estimate the costs of tax expenditure provisions in the tax code. In the next sections (Parts II - IV), we have provided detailed information about each of the three major tax types, including an explanation of how each tax is calculated and the ways in which that tax's basic structure is modified to produce the various types of tax expenditures. The tax expenditures for each tax are listed after the description of the tax.

Following the expenditure listings, Part V provides four appendices. The first lists recent law changes which affect this year's tax expenditure budget; the second is a glossary that defines terms used throughout the text; the third gives five-year tax expenditure estimates that are consistent with our most recent estimation methodology; and the fourth appendix is used for items that no longer qualify as tax expenditures due to legislative changes but are estimated for the purpose of comparisons to prior reports. In reviewing this document it is important to remember that although a tax expenditure represents a deviation from the generally agreed-upon, or basic, structure of a given tax, determining whether a provision is a tax expenditure is not the same as making a judgment about its desirability. An element of the basic structure of a tax can be inequitable or have undesirable economic effects, just as a tax expenditure can. If so, it can be changed by legislative action just as a tax expenditure can.

The estimates of the costs of tax expenditures included in this volume are revised annually. As improved methodologies and data become available over the course of the year, some estimates may be reexamined and occasionally revised.

What Are Tax Expenditures?

Tax expenditures are provisions in the tax code, such as exclusions, deductions, credits, and deferrals, which are designed to encourage certain kinds of activities or to aid taxpayers in special circumstances. When such provisions are enacted into the tax code, they reduce the amount of tax revenues that may be collected. Massachusetts General Laws (MGL), Ch 29, Sec 1 as modified by the Ch. 165 of the Acts of 2012 (section 112) defines tax expenditures as "state tax revenue foregone as a direct result of any general or special law which allows exemptions, deferrals, deductions from or credits against taxes imposed on income, businesses and corporations, financial institutions, insurance and sales but excluding revenue foregone as a direct result of any general or special law which allows a personal income tax exemption. Sales that do not involve tangible personal property shall not result in tax expenditures under this definition."

In this sense, the fiscal effects of a tax expenditure are just like those of a direct government expenditure. Some tax expenditures involve a permanent loss of revenue, and thus are comparable to a payment by the government; others cause a deferral of revenue to the future, and thus are comparable to an interest-free loan to the taxpayer. Since tax expenditures are designed to accomplish certain public goals that otherwise might be met through direct expenditures, it seems reasonable to apply to tax expenditures the same kind of analysis and review that the appropriations budget receives.

It is essential to distinguish between those provisions of the tax code that represent tax expenditures and those that are part of the "basic structure" of a given tax. The basic structure is the set of rules that defines the tax; a tax expenditure is an exception to those rules. In general, most taxes have a series of features that define their basic structure. These features are:

1. A base, on which the tax is levied, such as net income, or a particular class of transactions;
2. A taxable unit, such as a person or a corporation;
3. A rate, to be applied to the base;
4. A definition of the geographic limits of the state's exercise of its tax jurisdiction; and
5. Provisions for the administration of the tax.

Defining the Basic Tax Structure

A tax expenditure is a deviation from the generally agreed-upon, or basic, structure of a given tax. For example, the base of the sales tax includes all retail sales to final consumers. The exemption for sales of energy conservation equipment is an exception, created to encourage purchases of such equipment. The sales tax that is not collected because of the existence of this exemption is tax expenditure.

While this general definition seems straightforward enough, the task of compiling a comprehensive list of tax expenditures presents many conceptual problems. For example, some of the deductions and exemptions allowed under the tax statutes are not tax expenditures. The broad category of income tax deductions allowed for business expenses is not listed as tax expenditure. Since the income tax is generally considered to be a tax on income net of the costs of producing that income, deductions for business expenses are taken against gross income and therefore occur prior to calculation of the tax base. In addition, tax provisions reflecting constitutional prohibitions, such as the prohibition on taxation of sales to the federal government, are considered parts of the basic tax structure and therefore are not properly considered tax expenditures. These distinctions are fairly simple, but more complex analytical questions quickly arise.

For example, deductions for the depreciation of property and equipment used in a trade or business are considered part of the basic tax structure because the use of productive assets is a legitimate cost of doing business. However, federal depreciation rules allow larger depreciation deductions in the early years of a property's useful life. These accelerated depreciation rules could be viewed as properly reflecting changing notions of obsolescence and thus as part of the basic tax structure; or the faster rates of depreciation could be considered a special adjustment in the tax base designed to provide an incentive for investment, and therefore a tax expenditure. Past federal tax expenditure budgets prepared by the Congressional Budget Office and versions prepared by the Treasury Department have disagreed on exactly this issue.

We have adopted the point of view that accelerated depreciation is tax expenditure. Although accelerated depreciation still allows the same total deduction for a piece of property; the rate of depreciation allowed in the early years is faster than would be permitted under traditional accounting principles. Generally, revenue cost estimates in this document for tax expenditures associated with accelerated depreciation rely on assumptions used in congressional federal tax expenditure analysis concerning ordinary depreciation rates.

We have chosen to view the rules for personal exemptions and for no tax status in the Commonwealth's personal income tax as provisions which help to define the income tax base, and thus as a part of the basic structure of the tax (much as the progressive rate structure of the federal income tax, which similarly reduces the tax burden on low-income people, is a part of its basic structure). The base of the tax is defined as net income above what is required for subsistence. Since personal exemptions help define the amount of income needed for subsistence, and therefore the base, they should not be classified as tax expenditures. According to this reasoning, exemptions allowed for dependents would also be considered part of the basic tax structure, since subsistence requirements increase with the size of the taxpayer's household. However, we note that this view of the tax structure does not always lead to easy conclusions. First, taxpayers are allowed exemptions for dependents even if those dependents have their own income and take personal exemptions for themselves. We have treated the use of the dependents' exemption as tax expenditure. Second, the fact that the no tax status amount is greater than the personal exemption suggests that the intent behind the no tax status and personal exemptions goes beyond simple definition of an income base. Although personal exemptions and the no tax status are not listed in this document as tax expenditures, estimates for the revenue losses associated with these provisions are provided in an endnote.

Many Massachusetts tax expenditures in the personal income tax and corporate tax derive from federal income tax rules and thus piggy back on many but not all, federal tax expenditures. We have chosen to include such tax expenditures in this tax expenditure budget, as Massachusetts generally has the ability legally to "decouple" from piggybacking on federal tax expenditures, and has done so in certain cases (e.g., bonus depreciation) from time to time. However, one can question whether federal tax expenditures should generally be included in the Massachusetts tax expenditure budget, because for the most part they simply reflect the fact that Massachusetts has generally chosen to incorporate much of the federal tax laws into the determination of Massachusetts taxable income for personal and corporate income tax purposes.

The sales tax presents the most difficult case. The sales tax statute and its legislative history indicate that the established base of the tax is all "retail" sales. At a minimum, the sales tax exemptions for business purchases of component parts and of products to be resold appear to be provisions that help define which sales are considered non-retail sales, and therefore should not be classified as tax expenditures. However, it is difficult if not impossible to decide which other sales tax exemptions might also cover non-retail sales. For example, manufacturing companies are allowed an exemption from the sales tax for purchases of machinery used in the production process. Since this machinery is not a direct component part of any product being manufactured and is not purchased simply to be resold, it could be argued that the machinery purchase is a retail sale and that the machinery exemption is a tax expenditure. Others would argue that because these purchases are not purchases by the final consumers of an end product, and because they represent legitimate business expenses, these sales tax exemptions should not be considered tax expenditures.

The largest proportion of Massachusetts tax expenditure dollars used to be sales and use tax expenditures. This was largely because of the exclusion (or non-taxation) of certain property and services (other than telecom) from sales and use taxation. The Center on Budget and Policy Priorities' tax expenditure survey report indicates that items such as non-taxation of services, which are so-called "implicit tax expenditures", should be included in the tax expenditure budget. They also report that about 16 states have such items in their annual tax expenditure reports (<http://www.cbpp.org/files/4-9-09sfp.pdf>). This provides a means of quantifying the cost of not taxing most services, and allows for comparison with other states that do apply their sales and use tax to various types of specified services. However, in July 2012 legislation was enacted stating explicitly that "sales that do not involve tangible personal property shall not result in tax expenditures". See St 2012, c.165, §112. Pursuant to this legislation, from fiscal year 2014 on, we remove some items, including non-taxation of services, from our tax expenditure estimates, which we regularly reported in prior years. But to facilitate comparison to tax expenditure estimates in prior years, we list these items in Appendix D.

As stated in the introduction, the most important thing to remember is that making a judgment about whether a provision is tax expenditure is not the same as making a judgment about its desirability. With this in mind, we have attempted to provide more rather than fewer tax expenditure estimates, so that necessary information is available for those charged with making policy judgments.

Description of the Data

This budget should be considered part of an ongoing effort to list tax expenditures, describe their characteristics, and estimate their revenue costs. Each year, we attempt to improve upon the analysis presented in the prior year's tax expenditure budget. For purposes of comparison, we have provided an appendix containing updated tax expenditure estimates for the past four years as well as for Fiscal Year 2021.

Information collected by the Department of Revenue (DOR) from Massachusetts tax returns was an important source of data in this budget. Estimates made from these data tend to be the most reliable. Unfortunately, many tax expenditures cannot be estimated from DOR records. When a particular category of income is excluded from taxation, amounts often do not appear on tax records. This is especially likely to be the case for those tax expenditures brought about by "coupling" the state tax code to the federal code, since exclusions and some deductions are not reported explicitly, but are simply carried over to state tax calculations as part of the reporting of federal income. In such cases we have had to estimate a Massachusetts figure using national tax data, census information, sales statistics, and other information.

You will note that in several cases, this year's tax expenditure estimates are very different from last year's. Revisions to the estimates occur for four reasons: we have new data sources; federal tax expenditure estimates on which we rely have changed; we have refined our estimation methodologies; or changes in Massachusetts tax law have modified existing estimates. In a few instances, more than one of these factors operates to explain the difference. All estimates are projections forward from a base year (which varies depending on the availability of data) to Fiscal Year 2021.

Data Limitations

There are some additional caveats that the reader should keep in mind when reading this budget. First, most revenue loss estimates have been made without taking into account how repeal of a provision might change taxpayer behavior. For example, if the sales tax exemption for a particular item were repealed, the item would become more expensive to consumers, so one would expect sales of that item to decline. The revenue gain from repealing the provision would be, therefore, somewhat less than if the level of sales for the affected items remained the same. On the other hand, some of the income not spent on that item might be spent on other taxable items. To the extent that consumers and businesses pay more taxes and have less income available for other purposes, the repeal of a tax expenditure might have much broader economic and revenue effects. Clearly, the full estimation of these effects demands extensive data which are not easily available.

Second, interactions among different taxes and tax expenditures may be quite complex. Repealing some tax expenditures may increase or decrease the value of others. For example, increasing the no tax status amount would mean that fewer people would pay taxes, and thus fewer people would claim other exemptions. This would reduce the revenues lost through other exemptions. Therefore the combined cost of several tax expenditure items may be different from the total of the cost of the separate tax expenditure items.

Third, the revenue cost estimates do not generally reflect compliance factors that may significantly reduce revenues available from tax expenditure repeal. In particular, where Massachusetts tax provisions are "coupled" with federal tax rules, audits of Massachusetts taxpayers generally compare state and federal returns. If Massachusetts tax provisions were "decoupled", taxpayers would have to make separate calculations for Massachusetts tax purposes, and these provisions would require special audit procedures. Compliance difficulties would certainly result.

And fourth, particular caution is appropriate with respect to the tax expenditure budget's totals for expenditures for particular taxes. Not only do these totals reflect the imprecision of the specific estimates, but they also omit those items for which no estimates were available. In consequence, particular totals may be substantially understated. At the same time, included in the totals, particularly with regard to the sales tax, are a number of substantial items that many analysts would not regard as tax expenditures, but rather as features of the underlying tax itself. The general approach in preparing the tax expenditure budget has been to count questionable items as tax expenditures, so that information concerning them would be available for analysis. The result is that the totals are higher than they would be under a more restrained analytic approach.

Reading the Budget

In this document, tax expenditures and cost estimates are listed according to the taxes to which they pertain: personal income, corporate excise, and sales and use. Note that the corporate section of the Tax Expenditure Budget includes other business excises along with the corporate excise. These additional business excise taxes are the financial institution excise, the public utility excise, which was repealed effective January 1, 2014, the excises on insurance companies, and the excise on security corporations. Each of the three major taxes includes an introductory section with a description of the tax, followed by a listing of the tax expenditures for that tax. Each tax expenditure item includes a brief description, the cost estimate, a statutory citation, and an indication of the tax expenditure's type. The various special excises on motor fuels, cigarettes, and alcoholic beverages are not covered in this budget.

Note on the impact of recent Federal Law changes

On December 22, 2017, Public Law 115-97, commonly known as the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act (TCJA) was signed into law. The TCJA provides for federal changes to a variety of provisions in the IRC that affect taxation in Massachusetts.

For income tax regulations, as a general rule, Massachusetts does not adopt any federal personal income tax law changes incorporated into the IRC after January 1, 2005. However, certain specific Massachusetts personal income tax provisions, as set forth in MGL ch 62, § 1(c), automatically conform to the current IRC (see Appendix A).

For corporate and business tax regulations, in general, Massachusetts adopts federal tax expenditure items selectively. However, this year, we did not include any of the newly appeared federal tax expenditure items in the current report (see Appendix A). We may include some of the newly appeared federal tax expenditure items from the next year report.

Note that where Massachusetts automatically conforms to federal changes, existing tax expenditures in the state's Tax Expenditure Budget (TEB) that are calculated based on federal estimates will reflect the impact of those changes.

The TCJA contained several changes that limited certain business deductions. We have not included these in the current TEB. As noted in the introduction "Defining the Basic Tax Structure" above, items found in the broad category of income tax deductions allowed for business expenses are not listed as tax expenditures. This is because deductions for business expenses are taken against gross income and, as a cost of producing taxable income, are generally not considered tax expenditures. The federal tax expenditure budget prepared by the Joint Committee on Taxation (JCT) has included some of these limits as "negative tax losses" (revenue gains) in their most recent federal TEB. DOR will continue to review the impact of tax law changes at the federal level, and will incorporate those impacts into future TEBs as necessary.

Introduction - Personal Income Tax

Although income from professions, trades or employment was taxed throughout the nineteenth century under the local property tax, it was not until 1916, under the authority of Article 44 of the Amendments to the Massachusetts Constitution, that the Massachusetts personal income tax was enacted as a separate tax. Because Article 44 requires that all income of the same class be taxed at the same rate, Massachusetts applies a flat tax rate regardless of total income; the federal tax structure (and that used in most states) uses graduated rates.

Generally, the Massachusetts personal income tax ties into the federal Internal Revenue Code as it was on January 1, 2005. To the extent that the Massachusetts tax takes federal law as its starting point, it adopts many federal tax expenditures (see Appendix A for more details).

The personal income tax is the state's largest revenue source, accounting for 57.9% of Department of Revenue tax collections in Fiscal Year 2019.

Personal Income Tax: Basic Structure

Tax Base: The personal income tax base is gross income minus the costs of producing the gross income (trade or business expenses). Massachusetts gross income is defined as federal gross income with certain modifications. Effective January 1, 1996 it was divided into three classes: interest, dividends, and short-term capital gains ("Part A" income); long-term capital gains ("Part C" income); and all other income ("Part B" income). Massachusetts taxpayers are entitled to a basic personal exemption, which varies according to taxpayer status. The exempted amounts are considered to be outside the generally accepted tax base. They reflect the notion that income needed for bare subsistence should be free from tax. Thus, for the purposes of this document, these exemptions are not listed as tax expenditures. In addition, taxpayers whose income is below a specified level are entitled to "no tax status." For the same reason, this status is not listed as tax expenditure. On the other hand, because policy makers are often interested in the effects of adjusting the dollar amounts for the personal exemptions and the no tax status, estimates are provided for them in endnote 3 to item 1.405 in the list of personal income tax expenditures.

Taxable Unit: Individuals are taxed separately, with the exception of married couples, who may file a joint return. The income of children is not aggregated with that of their parents. The income of trusts, estates and unincorporated associations, is also subject to the personal income tax.

Rate Structure: The rate structure has been evolving to a system where most income is taxed at the Part B rate. Also, the Part B rate has been rolling back during years in which certain trigger levels of collections are met. In tax year 2015, the rate was 5.15%; in tax year 2016, the rate was reduced to 5.10%. The rate remained at 5.10% for tax years 2017 and 2018 but decreased to 5.05% for tax year 2019. It decreases further to 5.00% for tax year 2020 and beyond. Currently, only short-term capital gains and long-term capital gains on collectibles are taxed at a different rate. The vast majority of income is linked to the Part B rate.

Historical Notes: Prior to tax year 1999, the tax rate on interest and dividend income (one component of Part A income) was 12% compared with the Part B "earned" taxable income rate of 5.95%. Effective January 1, 2000, the rate on both Part B and the linked Part A income (Interest and Dividends) dropped to 5.85%, then to 5.60% on January 1, 2001, and to 5.30% on January 1, 2002. The rate was scheduled to decline to 5.00% on January 1, 2003; however, Chapter 186 of the Acts of 2002 ("An Act Enhancing State Revenues") delayed the final phase of the rate reduction. The tax rates on interest and dividend income and Part B income declined to 5.25% for tax year 2012 and 2013, to 5.20% for tax year 2014, to 5.15% for tax year 2015, and to 5.10% for tax years 2016, 2017, and 2018. The rate is 5.05% for tax year 2019 and 5.00% for tax year 2020 and beyond. All other things being equal, a reduction in tax rates -- which are part of the basic tax structure -- has the effect of reducing the value of tax expenditures, because when tax rates decline, so does the value of any exceptions to that basic structure.

Between January 1, 1996 and January 1, 2003, Part C income (long-term capital gains), was subject to the following tax rates based on how long the assets were held:

Holding Period	Tax Rate
more than one, but less than two years	5%
more than two, but less than three years	4%
more than three, but less than four years	3%
more than four, but less than five years	2%
more than five, but less than six years	1%
more than six years	0%

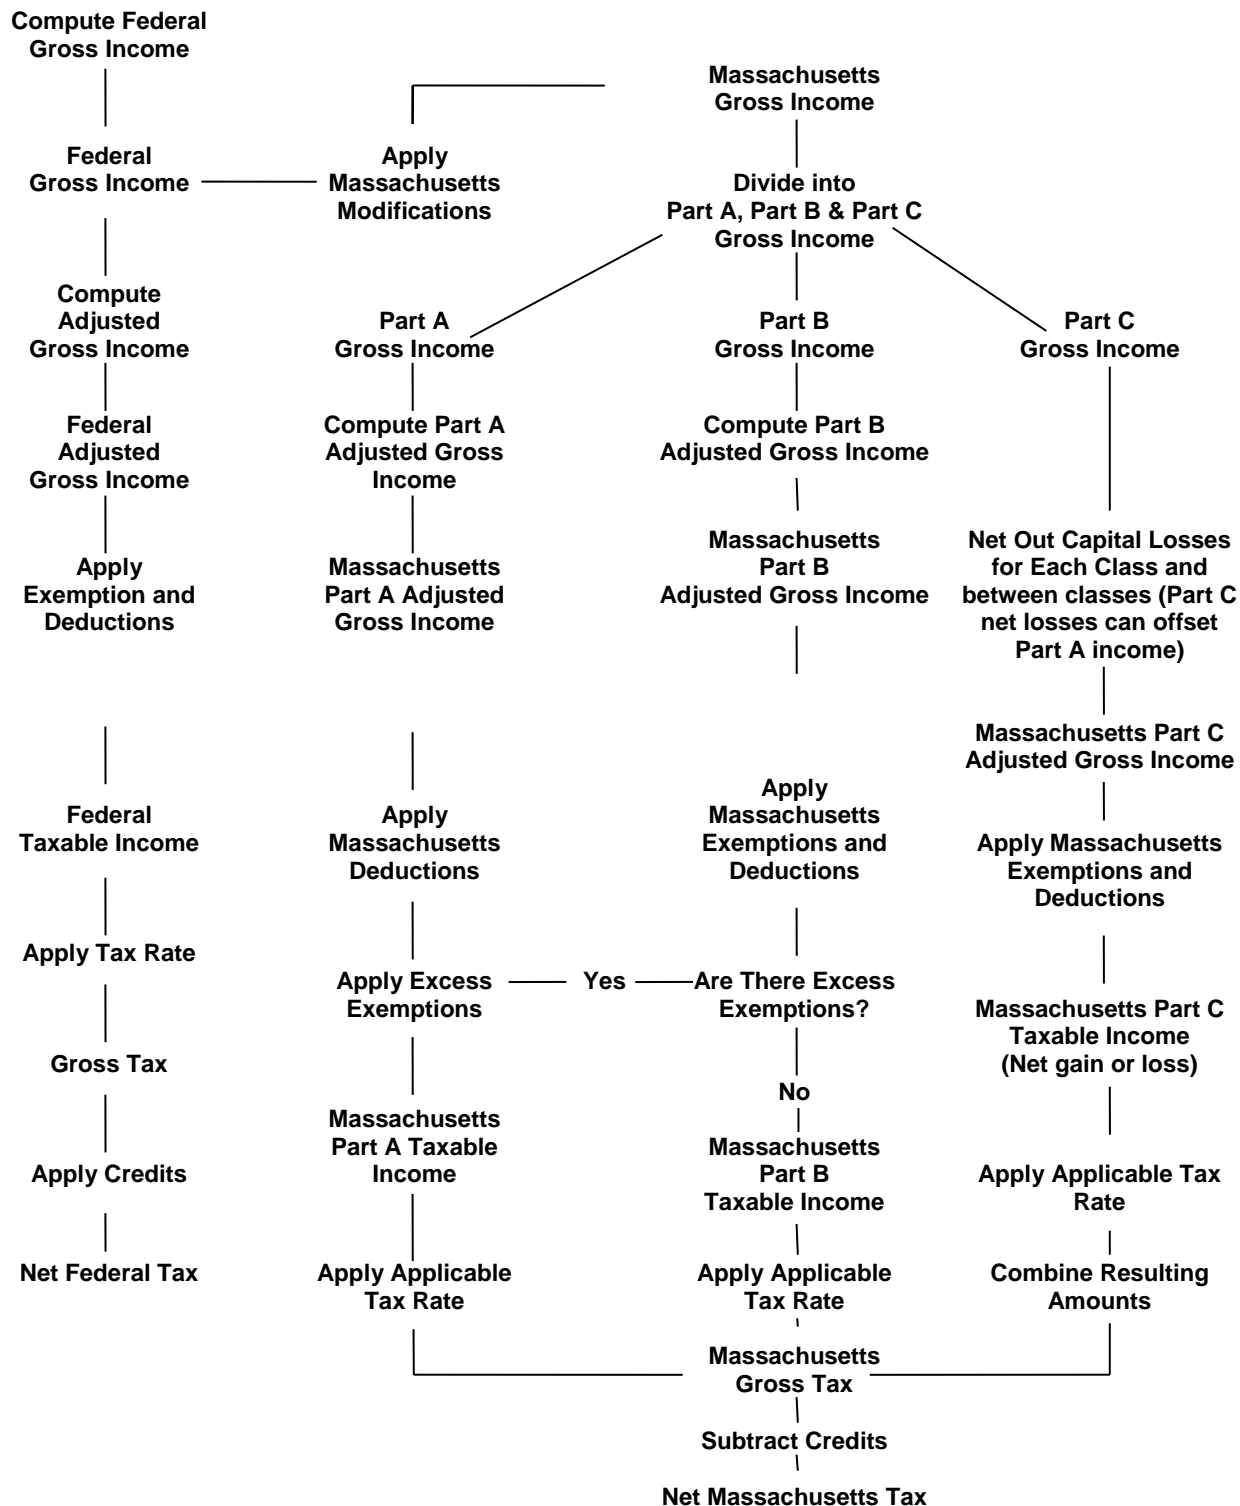

Assets acquired prior to January 1, 1996 were deemed to have been acquired on the later of January 1, 1995 or the actual date of acquisition. Note that capital assets held less than one year are considered Part A income, and are taxed at 12%.

Chapter 186 of the Acts of 2002 eliminated the “sliding scale” treatment of capital gains on assets held for more than one year. This was originally effective May 1, 2002; subsequent legislation changed the effective date of the tax change to apply to assets sold on or after January 1, 2003. Gains on such transactions are now taxed at the Part B rate of 5.00% for tax year 2020 and beyond.

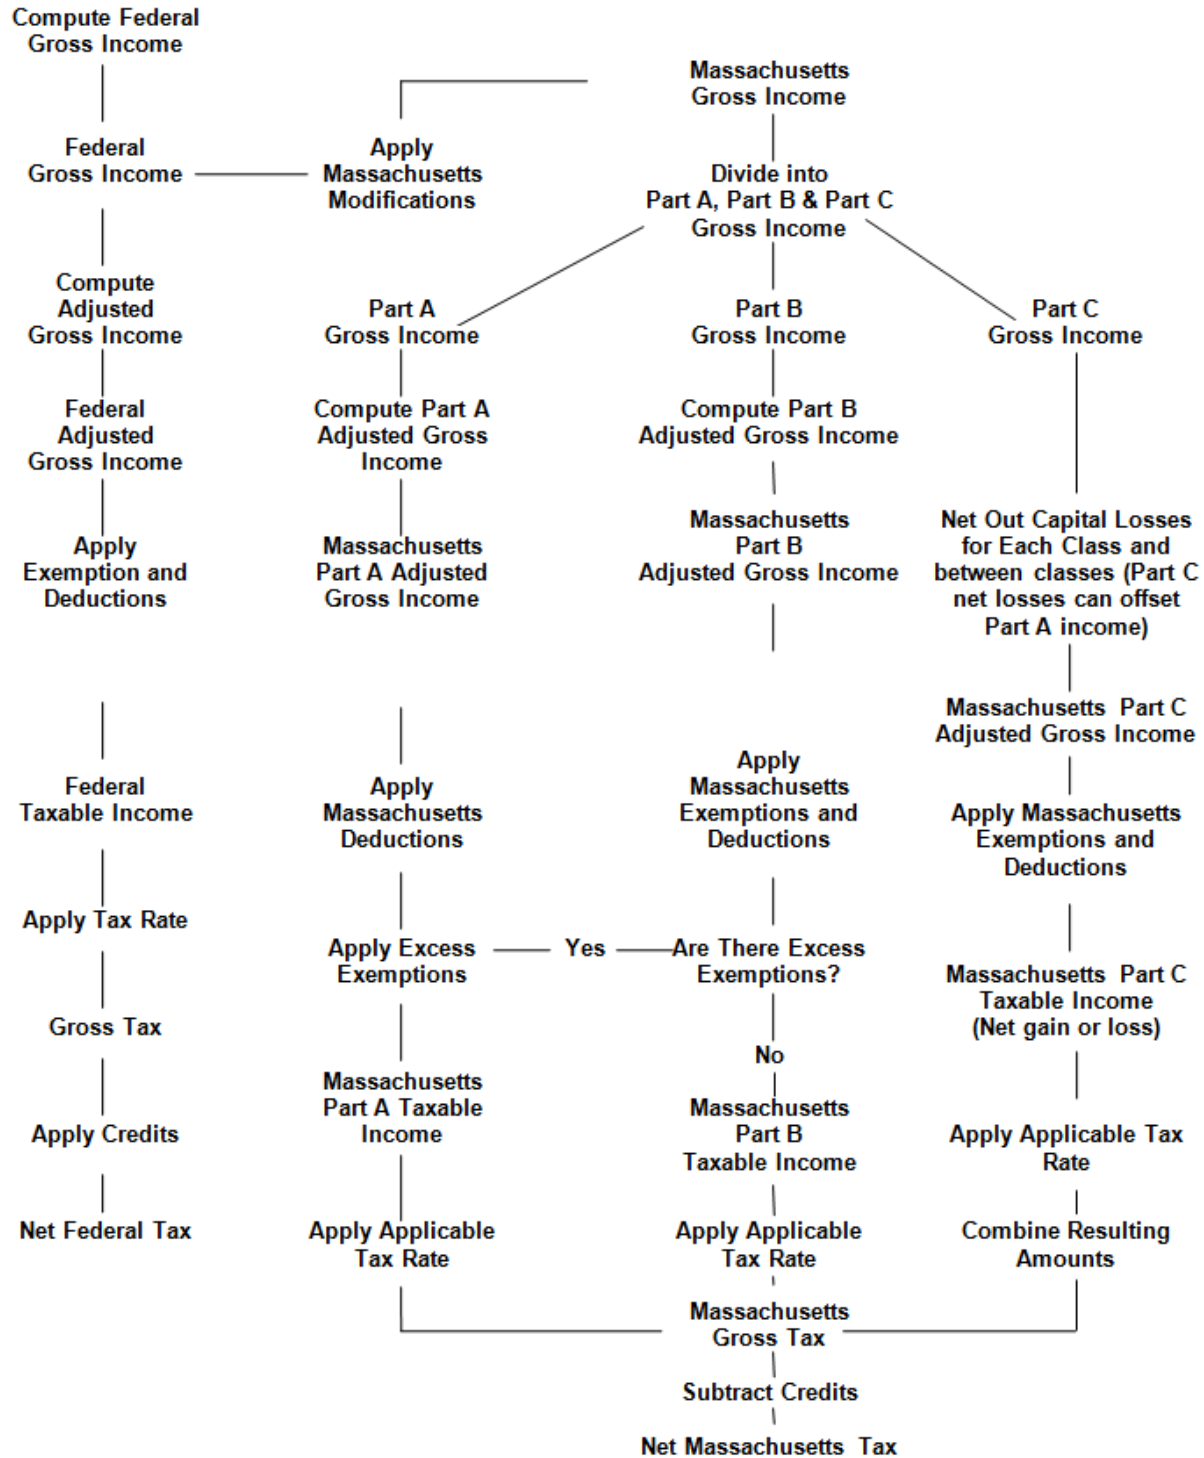

Taxable Period: The taxable period is one year (or less), usually the calendar year. Income may be reported according to the cash or accrual method. Where property is sold on a deferred payment basis, gains may be reported in the years the payments are received. There is no Massachusetts provision for income averaging. Net capital losses may be carried forward to future years. Ordinary losses may not be carried forward.

Interstate and International Aspects: Residents are taxed upon their entire income, whether derived from Massachusetts sources or elsewhere, without allocation or apportionment. Nonresidents are taxed only on income from sources within Massachusetts. A resident may take a limited credit against the Massachusetts income tax for income taxes due to other states, the District of Columbia, any territory or possession of the United States, or Canada or its provinces on any item of Massachusetts gross income.

Types of Tax Expenditures under the Personal Income Tax

The basic structure of the personal income tax can be modified in a number of different ways to produce tax expenditures. Brief explanations of the various types of tax expenditures follow:

Exclusions from Gross Income: Gross income is the starting point in the calculation of income tax liability and, in the absence of tax expenditures, would include all income received from all sources. Typically, the taxpayer does not report items of income that are excluded from gross income on his or her tax return. Thus, they escape taxation permanently.

Deferrals of Gross Income: Where an item of income is not included in gross income in the year when it is actually received, but is instead included in a later year, the result is tax expenditure in the form of an interest-free loan from the state to the taxpayer in the amount of the tax payment that is postponed.

Deductions from Gross Income: Certain amounts are subtracted from gross income to arrive at adjusted gross income (AGI). Many of these deducted amounts reflect the costs of producing income (business expenses), and are not properly part of the income tax base. Such deductions are not tax expenditures. Other deductions that do not reflect business expenses constitute tax expenditures, which permit corresponding amounts of income to escape taxation permanently.

Accelerated Deductions from Gross Income: In a number of cases, taxpayers are allowed to deduct business expenses from gross income at a time earlier than such expenses would ordinarily be recognized under Generally Accepted Accounting Principles. The total amount of the permissible deduction is not increased, but it can be utilized more quickly to reduce taxable income. The result is to defer taxes, thus in effect occasioning an interest-free loan from the state to the taxpayer.

Deductions from Adjusted Gross Income (AGI): Taxable income results from the subtraction of certain deductions and exemptions from AGI. Certain of these subtracted items represent amounts of income necessary for subsistence; their exclusion is part of the basic structure of the income tax. Other subtracted items represent tax expenditures, which permit corresponding amounts of income to escape taxation permanently.

Credits against Tax: After a taxpayer's basic tax liability has been calculated by applying the tax rates to taxable income, the taxpayer may subtract certain credit amounts from this initial liability in determining the actual amount of taxes that must be paid. It is important to note that, whereas a one-dollar exclusion or deduction results in a tax savings of only a few cents (one dollar times the applicable tax rate), a one-dollar credit results in a one-dollar tax savings.

Note on Personal Exemptions, Dependent Exemptions, No Tax Status, and Limited Income

Credit: These exempted amounts are considered to be outside the generally accepted tax base, and thus, for the purposes of this document, these exemptions are not listed as tax expenditures. However, because policy makers are often interested in the impact of adjusting their dollar amounts, estimates are provided for them in a footnote following the "Credits against Tax" section.

1.019 Treatment of Business-Related Entertainment Expenses¹

Prior to passage of the TCJA, a business was allowed to take a deduction of up to 50% of the cost of business-related entertainment expenses. Generally, the value of the entertainment was not taxed as income to the persons who benefit from the expenditures. The effect provided the hosts and their guests with a nontaxable fringe benefit. With the passage of TCJA, entertainment expenses are no longer allowed as a federal deduction. Massachusetts adopts this change as Massachusetts follows the current IRC in effect for trade or business expenses under IRC § 62(a)(1).

1.030 Parking, T-Pass and Vanpool Fringe Benefits

A federal and Massachusetts exclusion is allowed for employer-provided parking, transit passes and vanpool benefits (i.e. "qualified transportation benefits"), subject to monthly maximums. Massachusetts adopts the federal exclusion as it appeared in the Code on January 1, 2005. Although the Tax Relief Act of 2010 temporarily increased this amount at the federal level, Massachusetts did not conform. For taxable years beginning in 2020, the Massachusetts monthly exclusion amounts are $270 for employer-provided parking and $140 for combined transit pass and commuter highway vehicle transportation benefits. Under Massachusetts law, these numbers reflect an inflation adjustment but do not include the increase in the federal monthly exclusion amount for the combined transit pass and commuter highway vehicle transportation benefits that was signed into law on December 18, 2015. Massachusetts adopts monthly exclusion amounts based on the January 1, 2005 Code. For further discussion, see TIR 19-16.

Massachusetts had allowed an exclusion for amounts received in tax years beginning after December 31, 1996, with respect to individuals who had died after that date. As a result of the most recent Code update, Massachusetts adopts the federal exclusion as amended and in effect on January 1, 2005, that extends the exclusion for such annuities from, and including, individuals dying after December 31, 1996 to individuals who had died on or before December 31, 1996.

The plans are opened for a student beneficiary, and contributions are accepted until all account balances in Massachusetts' 529 plans for the same beneficiary reach $375,000. Qualified distributions from Massachusetts are exempt from state taxation. Note that Massachusetts also has the "U.Plan Prepaid Tuition Program", offered by the Massachusetts Education Financing Authority (MEFA). The U.Plan is not a qualifying 529 plan but is nevertheless tax-free for federal and Massachusetts income tax purposes because participants are purchasing Massachusetts general obligation bonds (see Item 1.023). The bonds are redeemable to pay specified percentages of tuition and mandatory fees at 80 participating private and public Massachusetts colleges and universities. New provisions that began in 2018 also allow 529 plan account funds to be used for elementary or secondary school expenses, up to $10,000 per year. 1.100 DEFERRALS OF GROSS INCOME

Income earned by the invested funds is not currently taxable to the employees. Benefits in excess of any employee contributions previously taxed by Massachusetts are taxable when paid out. The value of the tax deferral on contributions and on the investment income is a tax expenditure.

1.102 Treatment of Incentive Stock Options

Massachusetts has adopted the federal rules for employee stock options. Generally, employers may offer employees options to purchase company stock at a later date at a price equal to the fair market value of the stock when the option was granted. At the time employees exercise the option, they do not include in income the difference between the fair market value and the price they pay. If they later sell the stock, they are taxed on the amount by which the price they receive for the stock exceeds the price they paid. Thus, income is deferred and is taxed as a capital gain instead of as compensation.

Previously, the deduction was available only for improvements to abandoned buildings located in Economic Opportunity Areas ("EOA"), as designated by the EACC. However, in 2016, the legislature enacted An Act Relative To Job Creation And Workforce Development, which eliminated the EOA requirement, and inserted the requirement that the EACC need only "certify" a project. 1.300 ACCELERATED DEDUCTIONS FROM GROSS INCOME

1.301 Modified Accelerated Depreciation on Rental Housing

Landlords and investors in rental housing may use accelerated methods of depreciation for new and used rental housing. Rental housing placed in service after 1988 is depreciated on a straight-line basis over a 27.5-year period. Rental housing placed in service before 1988 was depreciable over shorter periods (generally 19 or 20 years), and, instead of straight-line depreciation, the 175% declining balance method was permitted. Straight-line depreciation over the property's expected useful life is the generally accepted method for recovering the cost of building structures. The excess of allowable depreciation over such generally accepted depreciation is a tax expenditure, resulting in a deferral of tax or an interest-free loan.

Origin: IRC § 168(b)

Estimate: $17.9

1.303 Modified Accelerated Depreciation on Buildings (other than Rental Housing)

Individuals or investors in a trade or business may use accelerated methods of depreciation for buildings. Construction may be depreciated under methods that produce faster depreciation than economic depreciation. The precise rates have been changed repeatedly in recent years as the result of revisions in the federal tax code. Structures (other than rental housing) placed in service after 1987 are depreciated on a straight-line basis over a 31.5-year life. The excess of accelerated depreciation over economic depreciation is a tax expenditure, resulting in a deferral of tax or an interest-free loan.

Estimate: $12.3

1.304 Modified Accelerated Cost Recovery System (MACRS) for Equipment

For depreciable tangible personal property placed in service after 1980, capital costs may be recovered using the Accelerated Cost Recovery System (ACRS), which applies accelerated methods of depreciation over set recovery periods. For property placed in service after 1987, Massachusetts has adopted the Modified Accelerated Cost Recovery System (MACRS), which generally uses double declining balance depreciation over specified periods that are substantially shorter than actual useful lives (200% declining balance for 3-, 5-, 7- and 10-year recovery property and 150% declining balance for 15- and 20-year property). The excess of accelerated depreciation over economic depreciation is a tax expenditure, resulting in a deferral of tax or an interest-free loan.

1.305 Deduction for Excess First-Year Depreciation

A taxpayer may elect to expense the cost of any section 179 property and deduct it in the year the property is placed in service. For taxable years beginning after 2018, these amounts of $1 million and $2.5 million will be adjusted for inflation. Any remaining cost may be depreciated according to MACRS as described in item 2.305. The immediate deduction constitutes a tax expenditure, resulting in a deferral of tax or an interest-free loan.

1.409 Deduction for Business-Related Child Care Expenses

Taxpayers qualifying for the credit for employment-related childcare expenses in the Internal Revenue Code are allowed a deduction against "earned" income for the amount of the expenses that qualify for the credit. Beginning in tax year 2001, the cap on this deduction was increased, and the coverage expanded to include elderly and disabled dependents. The cap increased from $2,400 to $3,600 for filers with one dependent, and from $2,400 to $4,800 for filers with two or more dependents. Beginning in tax year 2002, the cap was further increased to $4,800 for qualifying filers with one dependent and to $9,600 for filers with two or more dependents.

Comment: For federal tax purposes, the requirement that employment-related child care expenses relate only to children under age 15 was further restricted to children under age 13. 1.425 Student Loan Interest Deduction (allowed Federally or by Massachusetts)

Massachusetts allows as an option the federal "interest on education loans" deduction. The federal deduction phases out based on modified AGI. Alternatively, Massachusetts allows a deduction of undergraduate student loan interest. Filers may only choose one of these deductions.

1.607 Low Income Housing Credit

The Low-Income Housing Tax Credit (LIHTC) is administered through the Massachusetts Department of Housing and Community Development (DHCD). The LIHTC is a 5-year non-refundable credit available to corporate excise and personal income taxpayers for the construction or development of new low income housing, or the preservation and improvement of existing state or federally-assisted housing. The amount of credit that a taxpayer may claim for a qualified Massachusetts project is allocated by the DHCD and is subject to an annual cap of $125 million through 2024, and $50 million thereafter (unless otherwise authorized by DHCD). If the taxpayer disposes of the property generating the LIHTC, a portion of the credit is subject to recapture.

Under prior law, the Massachusetts low-income housing tax credits were available only to taxpayers who had been allocated federal low-income housing tax credits. However, effective August 1, 2010, the legislature authorized DHCD to grant state low-income housing tax credits (within the annual cap) to otherwise eligible projects that do not receive a federal low-income housing credit.

The LIHTC is a transferable, non-refundable, five year credit, which may be carried forward for up to 5 years.

Effective January 1, 2017, the LIHTC expanded to also provide a non-refundable, single year tax credit for corporate excise and personal income taxpayers that donate real or personal property to certain non-profit entities for use in purchasing, constructing, or rehabilitating a qualified Massachusetts project. This credit is generally limited to 50% but may be increased to 65% of the amount of the donation. The credit must be claimed in the year that the qualifying donation is made and credit amounts that exceed the tax due may be carried forward for up to five years. 1.608 Brownfields Credit

Taxpayers are allowed to take a credit for amounts expended to rehabilitate contaminated property owned or leased for business purposes and located within an economically distressed area. The eligibility period for the Brownfields Credit has been lengthened.

Recent legislation extended the Brownfields credit to nonprofit organizations, extended the deadline for incurring eligible costs, and permitted the credit to be transferred, sold, or assigned. As a result of the recent legislation, the environmental response action commencement cut-off date has been extended to August 5, 2018, and the time for incurring eligible costs that qualify for the credit to January 1, 2019. See TIR 13-15 for more information. Most recently, Chapter 99 of the Acts of 2018 extended the deadline for "commencement" to August 5, 2013 and set the period for incurring costs to between August 1, 1998 and January 1, 2024.

The amount of the credit varies according to the extent of the environmental remedy. If the taxpayer's permanent solution or remedy operation status includes an activity and use limitation, then the amount of the credit is 25% of the net response and removal costs incurred by the taxpayer. However, if there is no activity and use limitation, then the amount of the credit is 50% of the net response and removal costs. Note that although recent legislation made these credits transferable to another taxpayer, they are not refundable. The credit may be carried forward for up to 5 years.

1.609 Refundable State Tax Credit Against Property Taxes for Seniors ("Circuit Breaker")

Seniors are eligible for a tax credit to the extent that their property taxes - or 25% of rent - exceed 10% of their income. Income limits and a cap on the maximum assessed value of the filer's primary residence apply. The maximum credit is also adjusted annually for inflation, see Appendix A.

Income limits and the maximum credit are adjusted for inflation over a 1999 base year; however, chapter 136 of the Acts of 2005 increased the assessed home valuation to $600,000 and set its base year to 2004. The credits may not be sold or transferred to another taxpayer, but are refundable.

1.610 Historic Buildings Rehabilitation Credit

To claim this credit, a historic rehabilitation project must be complete and have been certified by the Massachusetts Historical Commission (MHC), which determines the amount of qualifying expenditures. Filers may claim up to 20% of their qualified rehabilitation expenditures.

Unused portions of the credit may be carried forward for up to 5 years and transferred or sold to another taxpayer, but are not refundable. The Historic Rehabilitation Credit (HRC) is not subject to the 50% limitation rule for corporate taxpayers. If the taxpayer disposes of the property generating the HRC, a portion of the credit may be subject to recapture.

The expenditure for this item (combined with the Historic Rehabilitation Credit for corporate income tax filers, item 2.610) was originally capped at $15 million per year, with a start date for the credit of January 1, 2005 and an end date of December 31, 2009. Chapter 123 of the Acts of 2006 extended the availability of the credit for an additional 2 years, to December 31, 2011. Again, Chapter 131 of the Acts of 2010 extended the availability of the credit for an additional 6 years to December 31, 2017, with an annual cap of $50 million. Chapter 165 of the Acts of 2014 further extends this credit, including the $50 million annual limit, for an additional five years to December 31, 2022. Enacted in May, 2018, chapter 99 of the Acts of 2018 increased the annual cap to $55 million, effective for the taxpayers whose tax year starts from January 1, 2018.

Effective August 13, 2014, MHC is allowed, subject to certain criteria, to transfer HRC awards to taxpayers subject to the personal income tax imposed by G.L.c. 62 that acquire a qualified historic structure. In the case of a multi-phased project the MHC is allowed to transfer HRC awards for any phase that meets the criteria. Effective August 10, 2016, such transfer is also allowed for taxpayers subject to the corporation excise under G.L. c. 63. See TIR 14-13 and 16-15.

1.611 Film (or Motion Picture) Credit

See also Corporate item 2.614. Individual income tax filers engaged in the making of a motion picture are allowed two credits:

a) Payroll credit: This is a credit for the employment of persons within the Commonwealth in connection with the filming or production of 1 or more motion pictures in the Commonwealth within any consecutive 12 month period. The credit is equal to 25 percent of the total aggregate payroll paid by a motion picture production company that constitutes Massachusetts source income, when total production costs incurred in the Commonwealth equal or exceed $50,000 during the taxable year. The term "total aggregate payroll" may not include the salary of any employee whose salary is equal to or greater than $1 million. Salaries over $1 million are eligible for the 25% non-payroll production credit (below).

b) Non-payroll production expense credit: Individual income tax filers are also allowed a credit equal to 25 percent of all motion picture related Massachusetts production expenses, not including the payroll expenses used to claim the aforementioned payroll credit. To be eligible for this credit, either Massachusetts motion picture production expenses must exceed 50 percent of the total production expenses for a motion picture or at least 50 percent of the total principal photography days of the film take place in the Commonwealth.

These tax credits are refundable at 90% of the approved credit amounts, or the amount of the tax credit that exceeds the tax due for a taxable year may be carried forward by the taxpayer to any of the 5 subsequent taxable years. Additionally, all or any portion of tax credits issued may be transferred, sold or assigned to other taxpayers with tax liabilities under chapter 62 (the individual income tax) or chapter 63 (the corporate or other business excise taxes). For applications submitted prior to January 1, 2007, film tax credits were capped at $7 million for any one motion picture production has; for applications submitted on or after January 1, 2007, there is no cap. Also, the sunset date for the film incentives statute has been extended from January 1, 2013 to January 1, 2023. See TIR 07-15 for more information.

1.616 Employer Wellness Program Tax Credit

The 2012 Health Care Act establishes an Employer Wellness Program Tax Credit that is effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2013 and is set to expire on December 31, 2017. The Employer Wellness Program Tax Credit was created to provide incentives for business to recognize the benefits of wellness programs with the goal of providing smaller businesses with an expanded opportunity to implement these programs. The credit is available to both chapter 62 and chapter 63 taxpayers (personal income taxpayers and corporate & business excise taxpayers).

The credit is set at 25 percent of the costs associated with implementing a "certified wellness program." The maximum amount of Employer Wellness Program Credits available to a taxpayer is $10,000 in any tax year. The total amount of Employer Wellness Program Credits authorized by the Department of Public Health is subject to a $15 million annual cap starting calendar year 2013. 1.617 Community Investment Tax Credit

The 2012 Jobs Act provides a Community Investment Tax Credit that is effective January

1, 2014 and is set to expire on December 31, 2019. However, St. 2018, chapter 99, § 25 extended the sunset date for the credit to year 2025. The credit was created to enable local residents and stakeholders to work with and through community development corporations to partner with nonprofit, public and private entities to improve economic opportunities for low and moderate income households and other residents in urban, rural and suburban communities across the commonwealth. The credit is available to both chapter 62 and chapter 63 taxpayers (personal income taxpayers and corporate & business excise taxpayers).

The Department of Housing and Community Development will administer the credit program by: 1) issuing a certification to a taxpayer after the taxpayer makes a qualified investment; 2) authorizing a dollar amount of credit for a qualified investment; 3) developing regulations and procedures with the Department of Revenue to implement the Community Investment Credit.

The certification will be acceptable as proof that the expenditures related to such investment constitute qualified investments for purposes of the community investment credit. The Community Investment Credit is set at 50 percent of the total qualified investments made by a taxpayer in a "community partner," i.e., a "community development corporation" or a "community support organization," selected by the Department of Housing and Community Development through a competitive process. A qualified investment must be in the form of a cash contribution of at least $1,000. A taxpayer may invest in more than one community partner, but may not claim more than $1 million of credits in any single taxable year. A taxpayer must claim the credit in the taxable year in which a qualified investment is made. The total amount of the credit was subject to a $3 million cap in taxable year 2014, and $6 million in each year of taxable years 2015 through 2018, $8 million in each year of taxable years 2019 and 2020, $10 million in each year of taxable years 2021 and 2022, and $12 million in each year of taxable years 2023 through 2025. This credit is refundable, but not transferrable and it could be carried over up to five years.

Effective August 10, 2016, the standard for determining whether a recipient of a prior community investment tax credit allocation is eligible for a subsequent allocation has changed. As of that date, a community partner is eligible to receive a subsequent community investment tax credit allocation if the Department of Housing and Community Development determines that the community partner has made a satisfactory progress towards utilizing any prior allocation it has received. Prior to this change, a community partner was required to have utilized at least 95% of its prior allocation to be eligible for a subsequent allocation. For further information, see TIR 16-15.

1.618 Farming and Fisheries Income Tax Credit

Personal income taxpayers who are primarily engaged in agriculture, farming or commercial fishing qualify for an investment credit, similar to that available to manufacturing, R&D corporations and corporations primarily engaged in agriculture or commercial fishing. The amount of the credit is 3% of the cost or other basis for federal income tax purposes of qualifying property acquired, constructed or erected during the tax year. Qualifying property is defined as tangible personal property and other tangible property including buildings and structural components thereof which are located in MA, used solely in farming, agriculture or fishing, and are depreciable with a useful life of at least 4 years. The same credit is allowed to lessees, calculated as follows: 3% of a lessor's adjusted basis in qualifying property for federal income tax purposes at the beginning of the lease term, multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of days of the tax year during which the lessee leases the qualifying property and the denominator of which is the number of days in the useful life of the property. Where the lessee is eligible for the credit, the lessor is generally not eligible, with the exception of "equine-based businesses where care and boarding of horses is a function of the agricultural activity". There is also a recapture provision, i.e., if the property on which a credit is taken is disposed of or ceases to be in qualified use prior to the end of its useful life, the difference between the credit taken and allowed for actual use must be added back as additional taxes due in the year of disposition, unless the property has been in qualified use for more than 12 years. This credit is effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2015.

The credit may be up to 10% of the cost of "qualified substantial rehabilitation expenditures" of the market rate units within the projects as defined in G.L. c. 40V, § 1.

While the original cap on annual credits was $5 million, this has been increased to $10 million for the period January 1, 2015 to December 31, 2023 for the amount of credit that may be awarded under the program in a calendar year. Before 2017, the cap is part of an over-all $25 million ($30 million for 2015 and 2016) cap imposed on the Economic Development Incentive Program (EDIP) credit authorized pursuant to G.L. c. 62 § 6(g) and c. 63, 38N.

Effective January 1, 2017, the certified housing development tax credit is available for 25% of "qualified project expenditures" instead of 10% of "qualified substantial rehabilitation expenditures." ¹ 1 This item and others citing this endnote cover employee fringe benefits. We accept as standard the following treatment of these benefits: the expense incurred by the employer in providing the benefit is properly deductible as a business expense and the benefit is taxed as compensation to the employee as if the employee had received taxable compensation and then used it to purchase the benefit. Of course, there are problems with this analysis. In some cases, the "benefit" is more a condition of employment than a true benefit. For example, a teacher required to have lunch in the school cafeteria may prefer to eat elsewhere even if the school lunch is free. On the other hand, in many cases the provision of tax-free employee benefits is clearly a substitution for taxable compensation.

² 2 This item and others citing this endnote cover contributory pension plans. The standard tax treatment of these plans is as follows:

Component	Standard Treatment
Contributions:	Made out of income that is currently taxed to employees.
Investment Income:	Taxed to the employee as "earned" income.
Distributions from Pension Funds:	Tax-free to the extent they are made out of dollars previously taxed to the employees as contributions or investment income.

The non-standard treatment of contributions, investment income, or distributions as described in items 1.006, 1.101, 1.104, 1.402, and 1.427, results in either nontaxation or deferrals of tax.

Introduction - Corporate Excise Tax

Beginning in Fiscal Year 2013, the corporate section of the Tax Expenditure Budget includes other business excises along with the corporate excise. These additional business excise taxes are the financial institution excise, the public utility excise which was repealed effective January 1, 2014, the excises on insurance companies, and the excise on security corporations. The financial institution excise is structured similarly to the corporate excise. It begins with federal net income with certain Massachusetts modifications, proceeds to additional Massachusetts deductions, applies the appropriate apportionment percentage, applies the appropriate tax rate to compute the excise due before credits and applies credits to reach the final excise due. The revenue estimates for the items in the list will now reflect their use by financial institutions. Note that most of the expenditure items are unavailable to insurance companies as these companies are not taxed on net income. However, insurance companies can apply certain credits to reduce their excises. Credits available to insurance companies are so indicated within the item descriptions and the revenue estimates for these credits will reflect their use.

In Fiscal Year 2019, revenues from the corporate excise and the other business excises mentioned above represented 11.3% of total Department of Revenue tax collections. Together these taxes ranked third in Fiscal Year 2019 in terms of total taxes collected, after the individual income tax and the sales and use tax.

Corporate Excise: Short History and Basic Structure

The corporate excise was enacted in 1919, replacing a corporate franchise tax, which was levied on the value of capital stock. Initially, the corporate excise was imposed on corporate excess and on net income.

In 1962, the corporate excess measure was repealed. The corporate excise tax is now levied on tangible property or net worth (depending on the mix of property held by the corporation) and on net income.

Tax Base:

Most business corporations are subject to tax under the corporate excise which has three components: an income measure, a non-income measure, and a minimum excise.

The income measure of the tax is based on net income for federal tax purposes with certain additions, such as interest earned on state obligations, and certain deductions, most of which are allowable under the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code. Many of the deductions are considered to be part of the basic structure. For example, in providing for depreciation deductions, the basic structure would allow the cost of property to be written-off evenly over its useful life (so-called "straight-line depreciation"). However, rules that allow accelerated depreciation deductions are listed as tax expenditures.

Under the non-income measure, corporations with qualifying tangible assets in Massachusetts that equal or exceed 10% of their qualifying total assets in Massachusetts (apportioned according to their income apportionment percentages) are taxed on the values of their tangible properties. Other corporations are taxed on a net worth basis.

The minimum excise is $456.

Taxable Unit: A corporation is a taxpayer separate and distinct from its shareholders.

Rate Structure: Overall, the rates have declined since January 2010. See Appendix A for further details. However, the minimum excise remains unchanged at $456. The current (tax year 2020) excise rate on C-corporations is 8.00% of net income apportioned to Massachusetts, and $2.60 per $1,000 of the value of Massachusetts tangible property (as determined to be taxable under § 30(7)) or net worth allocable to Massachusetts (as determined to be taxable under § 30(8) - (9)). The tax rate on S-corporations is 3.00% for companies with total receipts greater than $9 million, and 2.00% for companies with total receipts between $6 million and $9 million. The tax rate on tangible property or net worth is the same as for C-corporations.

Taxable Period and Net Operating Loss Carry-forward: The taxable periods for corporations are diverse and can be chosen by each tax filer. Estimated payments are made every three months during the taxable period. Net operating loss (NOL) carry-forwards are allowed for future deductions. Before January 2010, qualifying losses could be carried forward up to five years. However, there was a statutory expansion of the general NOL carry-forward period from 5 to 20 years for business corporations. Refer to Appendix A of the FY2016 tax expenditure budget report for details.

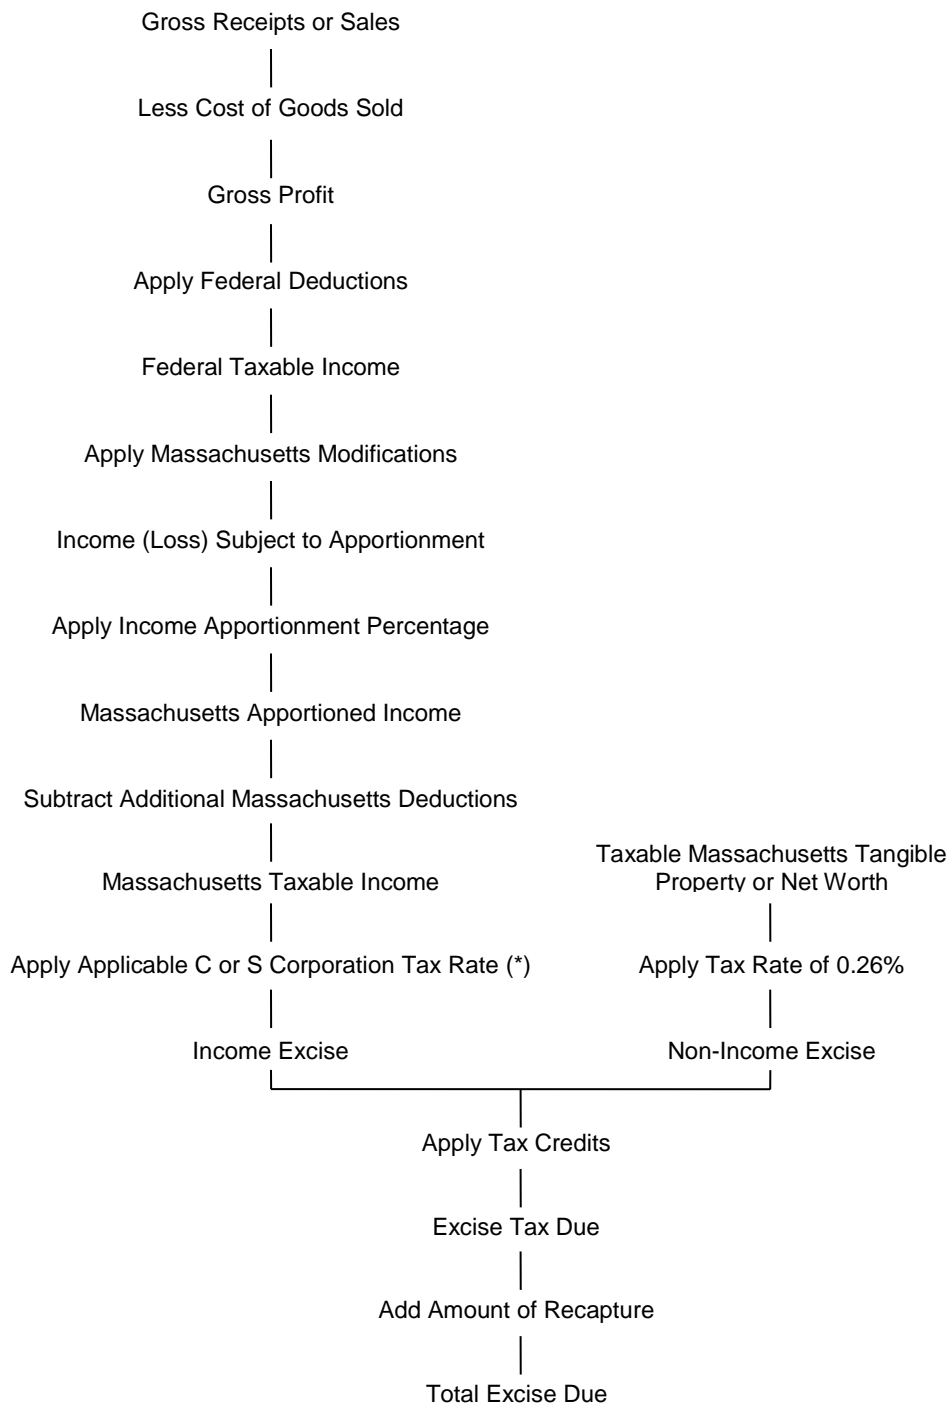

Interstate and International Aspects: All domestic and foreign corporations with nexus in Massachusetts are subject to the corporate excise. Corporations are required to apportion their net incomes if they have incomes from business activity that is taxable in another jurisdiction using a formula based on the proportions of corporate real and tangible property, payroll, and sales that are located in Massachusetts. Under certain circumstances, taxpayers may petition for, or the Commissioner may impose, alternative methods of accounting to reflect more fairly a taxpayer's income from business operations in Massachusetts.

Combined Reporting: Since January 1, 2009, Massachusetts has required certain businesses engaged in a unitary business to calculate their income on a combined basis. A corporation is subject to this requirement if it is subject to a tax on its income under Massachusetts General Laws (M.G.L.) c. 63, §2, §2B, §32D, §39 or §52A and it is engaged in a unitary business with one or more other corporations under common control, whether or not the other corporations are taxable in Massachusetts. Those certain businesses can be general corporations, financial institutions, or public utilities. Note that combined reporting does not apply to the non-income measure of corporate excise.

The Other Business Excises

The other business excises possess some different features from the corporate excise. First, many of the financial institutions still do not qualify for combined reporting, and no insurance companies are subject to combined reporting. Second, these businesses are not allowed to take net operating loss deductions. Third, financial institutions weigh the three apportionment factors (sales, payroll, property) equally. Fourth, the main tax base of insurance companies is the insurance premiums those companies have charged. Fifth, some credits such as the investment tax credit are not applicable to these businesses. There are some additional differences. For further details, refer to the applicable tax return forms. The basic structures of the excises for these businesses are described in the diagrams that follow.

Types of Tax Expenditures

As with the personal income tax, the basic structure of the corporate excise tax is subject to several different types of modifications that can produce tax expenditures.

Exclusions from Gross Income: Gross income is the starting point in the calculation of the income component of the corporate excise. In the absence of tax expenditures, it would include all income received from all sources. Items of income that are excluded from gross income escape taxation permanently.

Deferrals of Gross Income: Where an item of income is not included in gross income in the year when it is actually received, but is instead included in a later year, the result is a tax expenditure in the form of an interest-free loan from the state to the taxpayer in the amount of the tax payment that is postponed.

Deductions from Gross Income: Certain amounts are subtracted from gross income to arrive at taxable income. Many of these deducted amounts reflect the costs of producing income (business expenses) and are not included in the corporate income measure of excise; such deductions are not tax expenditures. Other deductions, which do not reflect business expenses, but permit income to escape taxation permanently, do constitute tax expenditures.

Accelerated Deductions from Gross Income: In a number of cases, corporations are allowed to deduct business expenses from gross income at a time earlier than such expenses would ordinarily be recognized under accepted accounting principles. The total amount of the permissible deduction is not increased but it can be utilized more quickly to reduce taxable income. The result is to defer taxes, thus in effect occasioning an interest-free loan from the state to the taxpayer.

Adjustments to Apportionment Formula: In the case of a business that earns income both inside and outside the Commonwealth, an apportionment formula is used to determine what portion of the total business income to allocate to Massachusetts for the calculation of corporate excise. When the standard formula is adjusted to reduce the apportionment ratios for certain businesses, tax expenditures result. The practical effect is to exclude certain portions of those business incomes from taxation.

Exclusions from Property Component: In addition to the excise based on income, corporations pay the excise tax based on the value of their property in the state. To the extent that certain classes of property are not included in the excise's property measure, tax expenditures result.

Credits against Tax: After a corporation has computed its basic tax liability, it may subtract certain credit amounts in determining the actual amount of taxes due. It is important to note that, whereas one-dollar exclusion or deduction results in tax savings of only a few cents (one dollar times the applicable tax rate), one-dollar credit generally results in one-dollar tax saving.

Entity Exempt from Taxation: In some cases, a business or other entity may be completely exempt from taxation. To the extent businesses or investment incomes go untaxed, tax expenditures result.

List of Corporate and Other Business Excise Expenditures

2.000 EXCLUSIONS FROM GROSS INCOME

2.001 Small Business Corporations

In general, corporations organized under, or subject to, Chapters 156, 156A, 156B, 156C, 156D or 180 of Massachusetts General Laws (M.G.L.) or that have privileges, powers, rights or immunities not possessed by individuals or partnerships are subject to corporate excise. Certain corporations with no more than 100 shareholders may elect to be taxed, for both federal and state tax purposes, as "S corporations."

There are two categories of income that are taxable to an S corporation at the entity level: 1) Income that is taxable to the S corporation at the entity level for federal purposes. Generally, S corporations are not subject to an entity-level tax for federal purposes, but some categories of income are taxable. Those amounts are taxable to S corporations in Massachusetts at the regular corporate / financial institution rates; 2) Other income to the corporation is subject to the reduced corporate rates that apply only to S corporations.

More details about the tax on the second category of income are following. The earnings of S corporations with total receipts of less than $6 million are not generally subject to taxation at the corporate level. As of 2020, S corporations with total receipts of $6 million or more are subject to a corporate excise: 2.00%() for non-financial institutions and 2.67%() for financial institutions if receipts are $6 million or more but less than $9 million, and 3.00%() for non-financial institutions and 4.00%() for financial institutions if receipts are $9 million or more. In addition, S corporation net earnings (and losses) are attributed directly to shareholders (whether or not they are distributed as dividends) and are taxed at the individual shareholder level, generally at the applicable personal income tax rate.

The difference between the manner in which income is taxed to an ordinary business corporation (including its shareholders) and an S corporation and its shareholders constitutes a tax expenditure. Massachusetts first adopted this treatment of corporations in 1986.

(*) See Appendix A for further details on corporate excise rate.

2.200 DEDUCTIONS FROM GROSS INCOME

2.201 Charitable Contributions and Gifts Deduction

In computing net income, corporations may deduct charitable donations up to 10% of taxable incomes computed without the deductions. The TCJA (Tax Cuts and Jobs Act, enacted December 22, 2017) changed that the charitable deduction is no longer allowed for contributions to a college or university in exchange for athletic event seating rights. There is a carryover of excess contributions available for 5 succeeding taxable years.

2.203 Net Operating Loss (NOL) Carry-Forward

There was a statutory expansion of the general NOL carry-forward period from 5 to 20 years for business corporations, for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2010. There has also been a change to the calculation of an NOL carry-forward for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2010; all carry-forward losses of eligible business corporations are to be carried forward on a post-apportioned basis, after applying the apportionment percentages of the corporations for the taxable year in which the losses are sustained. For further discussion, see TIR 10-15.

2.204 Excess Natural Resource Depletion Allowance

Taxpayers in extractive industries (mining or drilling for natural resources) may deduct a percentage of gross mining income as a depletion allowance ("percentage depletion") even if the cost basis of the property has been reduced to zero. The deduction may not exceed 50% (in some cases, 100%) of net income from the property. In the case of oil and gas, percentage depletion is available only to domestic oil and gas sold by "independent producers" (nonintegrated companies). The excess of the deduction, which is available using the percentage of gross income method of depletion over a depletion deduction based on cost, is a tax expenditure.

2.205 Deduction for Certain Dividends of Cooperatives

Farmers' cooperatives and certain corporations acting as cooperatives may deduct patronage dividends and other amounts from gross incomes. Cooperatives meeting certain requirements may deduct dividends on capital stocks and certain payments to patrons such as investment incomes. Under generally accepted rules for taxing corporations, the corporations cannot deduct dividends paid to shareholders.

2.206 Economic Opportunity Areas; Tax Deduction for Renovation of Abandoned Buildings

Businesses renovating eligible buildings that are part of a project certified by the Economic Assistance Coordinating Council (EACC) may deduct 10% of the costs of renovation from gross incomes. This deduction may be in addition to any other deduction for which the cost of renovation may qualify. To be eligible for this deduction, renovation costs must be related to buildings designated as abandoned by the EACC. Previously, the deduction was available only for improvements to abandoned buildings located in Economic Opportunity Areas (EOA), as designated by the EACC. However, in 2016, the legislature enacted "An Act Relative To Job Creation And Workforce Development", which eliminated the EOA requirement, and inserted the requirement that the EACC needs to only certify a project. These changes are effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2019.

2.300 ACCELERATED DEDUCTIONS FROM GROSS INCOME

2.301 Modified Accelerated Cost Recovery System on Rental Housing

Landlords and investors in rental housing may use accelerated methods of depreciation for new and used rental housing. Straight-line depreciation over the property's expected useful life is the generally accepted method for recovering cost, which is close to economic depreciation. However, through the past decades, systems which adopt accelerated depreciation methods have been introduced. The current system is MACRS (Modified Accelerated Cost Recovery System) which was enacted in 1986. This system further accelerated the rate of recovery of depreciation than under ACRS (Accelerated Cost Recovery System) which was enacted in 1981. Differences between MACRS and ACRS are 1) deductions from the 150% declining balance method to 200-percent declining balance; 2) certain assets were reclassified and the number of asset classes (80) was increased; and 3) the recovery period for residential rental property was extended to 27.5 years and for nonresidential real property to 39 years. For details, refer to the document, Background and Present Law Relating to Cost Recovery and Domestic Production Activities, which was published by the Joint Committee on Taxation in their homepage on March 6th, 2012.

The excess of allowable depreciation over economic depreciation constitutes a tax expenditure, resulting in a deferral of tax or an interest-free loan.

2.303 Expenditures to Remove Architectural and Transportation Barriers to the Handicapped and Elderly

Taxpayers may elect to deduct up to $15,000 of the costs of removing architectural or transportation barriers to the handicapped in the year these costs are incurred. The immediate deduction of these expenditures, which would otherwise have to be capitalized and depreciated over a longer period, constitutes a tax expenditure, resulting in a deferral of tax or an interest-free loan.

2.304 Election to Deduct and Amortize Business Start-up Costs

Taxpayers who pay or incur business start-up costs and who subsequently enter the trade or business can elect to expense to the lesser of the amount of start-up expenditures with respect to the active trade or business or $5,000 of the costs. The $5,000 deduction amount is reduced dollar for dollar when the start-up expenses exceed $50,000. The balance of start-up expenses, if any, is amortized over a period of 180 months, starting with the month in which the business begins. The election must be made no later than the date (including extensions) for filing the return for the tax year in which the business begins or is acquired. A taxpayer is deemed to have made an election to deduct and amortize start-up expenses for the tax year in which the active trade or business to which the expenses relate begins. A taxpayer who does not make the election must capitalize the expenses.

2.305 Modified Accelerated Cost Recovery System for Equipment

For depreciable tangible personal property placed in service after 1980, capital costs may be recovered using the Accelerated Cost Recovery System (ACRS), which applies accelerated methods of depreciation over set recovery periods. For property placed in service after 1987, Massachusetts has adopted the Modified Accelerated Cost Recovery System (MACRS), which consists of General Depreciation System (GDS) and Alternative Depreciation System (ADS). GDS generally uses accelerated depreciation, while ADS uses straight-line depreciation. The accelerated depreciation is double declining balance depreciation over specified periods that are substantially shorter than actual useful lives (200% declining balance for 3-, 5-, 7- and 10-year recovery property and 150% declining balance for 15- and 20-year property). The excess of accelerated depreciation over straight-line depreciation constitutes a tax expenditure, resulting in a deferral of tax or an interest-free loan.

According to the TCJA, the General Depreciation System period for farming equipment and machinery placed into service after December 31, 2017 changed from 7 years to 5 years. In addition, such equipment may also be depreciated using the 200% declining balance method. Previously, such equipment had to be depreciated using the 150% declining balance method.

For the past decade, the federal government has allowed "bonus depreciation" which further accelerates depreciation for assets placed in service in certain years. However, Massachusetts is decoupled from it. For further discussion, see TIR 03-25 .

2.306 Deduction for Excess First-Year Depreciation

Taxpayers may elect to expense certain business assets purchased during the taxable year. The TCJA increased the benefits, making changes to IRC sec. 179. For tax year 2018, Massachusetts adopted the increased federal amounts provided by IRC sec. 179. The total deduction cannot exceed $1 million; for taxpayers whose investment in eligible assets exceeds $2.5 million in the year, the $500,000 ceiling is reduced by $1 for each dollar of investment above $2.5 million. Any remaining cost may be depreciated according to MACRS as described in item 2.305. The annual deduction of $1 million available for 2018 will be indexed to inflation.

In addition, there were also changes to IRC § 179 to allow improvements to the interior of any nonresidential real property, as well as roofs, heating, ventilation, and air-conditioning property, fire protection and alarm systems, and security systems installed on such property to qualify for expensing. The exclusion from expensing for tangible personal property used in connection with lodging facilities (such as residential rental property) has also been eliminated.

The immediate deduction constitutes a tax expenditure, resulting in a deferral of tax or an interest-free loan.

Origin: IRC, § 179

Estimate: $14.2

2.307 Modified Accelerated Depreciation on Buildings (other than Rental Housing)

Construction may be depreciated under methods which produce faster depreciation than economic depreciation. The precise rules have been changed repeatedly in recent years by revisions of the federal tax code. For structures (other than housing) placed in service after May 13, 1993, federal law requires straight-line depreciation over a 39 year life. The excess of accelerated depreciation over straight-line depreciation is a tax expenditure. For a more detailed description of accelerated depreciation, see the description for item 2.301.

The TCJA provides that an electing real property trade or business must use the alternative depreciation system for its residential or nonresidential real property. The alternative depreciation system period for nonresidential real property remains 40 years, while the period for residential real property is now 30 years.

2.308 Expensing Research and Development Expenditures in One Year

Taxpayers may elect to treat research or experimental expenditures incurred in connection with a trade or business as immediately deductible expenses. Under generally accepted accounting principles, at least some of these costs would otherwise be treated as capital expenditures and depreciated or amortized over a period of years. Their immediate deduction constitutes a tax expenditure, resulting in a deferral of tax or an interest-free loan.

Origin: IRC, § 174

Estimate: $42.0

2.309 Expensing Exploration and Development Costs

Certain capital costs incurred in bringing a known mineral deposit into production are deductible in the year incurred. A portion of domestic mining exploration costs can also be expensed, although they will be recaptured if the mine reaches the production stage. Certain intangible drilling and development costs of domestic oil, gas, and geothermal wells are deductible when made, but to a certain extent may be recaptured upon disposition of oil, gas, or geothermal property to which they are properly chargeable. The immediate expensing of these costs, which would otherwise be capitalized and recovered through depreciation or through depletion as the natural resource is removed from the ground, results in a deferral of tax or an interest-free loan.

2.311 Five-Year Amortization of Pollution Control Facilities

Taxpayers may elect to amortize the cost of a certified pollution control facility over a five-year period, allowing for accelerated recovery of these costs. Accelerated recovery is only available for pollution control facilities subsequently added to plants that were in operation before 1976. The excess of accelerated recovery over depreciation deductions otherwise allowable results in a deferral of tax or an interest-free loan.

Origin: IRC, § 169

2.312 Expensing of Alternative Energy Units

In determining net income, a corporation may elect to take an immediate deduction for expenditures made for certain solar or wind powered systems or units located in Massachusetts and used exclusively in the business, in lieu of all other deductions and credits including the deduction for depreciation. Without this provision, such expenditures would have to be capitalized and depreciated. The immediate deduction results in a deferral of tax or an interest-free loan.

2.313 Seven-Year Amortization for Reforestation

Taxpayers may elect to amortize reforestation costs for qualified timber property over a seven-year period. In the absence of this special provision, these costs would be capitalized and depreciated over a longer period or recovered when the timber is sold. The accelerated cost recovery results in a deferral of tax or an interest-free loan.

2.400 ADJUSTMENTS TO APPORTIONMENT FORMULA

2.401 Unequal Weighting of Sales, Payroll, and Property in the Apportionment Formula

Corporations with a presence in Massachusetts and other states allocate incomes to the Commonwealth using a three-factor apportionment formula. A corporation's sales, payroll, and property in Massachusetts are compared to those outside Massachusetts.

Exporters benefit from an apportionment formula that weights sales more heavily than the other factors. Effective January 1, 1996, eligible defense corporations are allowed to use a formula that weights sales 100%. For other qualified manufacturers, a 100% sales weight was phased-in over 5 years, and was fully effective January 1, 2000. Corporations other than mutual fund corporations will continue to use a formula that weights sales 50%. Financial institutions and public utility companies weigh all factors equally and do not result in a tax expenditure.

Effective January 1, 1997 mutual fund corporations are allowed to attribute mutual fund sales to Massachusetts based on the domicile of shareholders in the mutual funds. Effective July 1, 1997, mutual fund corporations are allowed to apportion their income to Massachusetts based solely on the percentage of sales to Massachusetts residents.

Comment: It is assumed that a standard apportionment formula gives equal weight to sales, property and payroll. The estimate measures the impact of departing from this standard formula.

2.502 Exemption for Property Subject to Local Taxation

In computing the state corporate excise on tangible property, property subject to tax at the local level is exempt. Generally, the state taxes only the machinery of manufacturing corporations and exempts business real estate and tangible personal property.

For purposes of estimating revenue loss from this tax expenditure, the state's non-income measure rate on property, $2.60 per $1,000, has been applied.

2.600 CREDITS AGAINST TAX2.602 Investment Tax Credit

Manufacturing corporations and corporations engaged primarily in research and development, agriculture or commercial fishing are allowed to take a credit of 3% of the cost or other basis for federal income tax purposes of qualifying tangible property acquired, constructed, reconstructed, or erected during the taxable year, after deduction of any federally authorized tax credit taken with respect to such property. Such property must have a useful life of four years or more. The property must be used and located in Massachusetts on the last day of the taxable year. A corporation cannot take the credit on property which it leases to another. A corporation can take the credit on property which it leases from another (for property leased and placed in service on or after July 1, 1994). Generally, eligible corporate lessees making qualifying leasehold improvements may claim the credit. A corporation may carry over to the next succeeding 3 years any unused portion of its Investment Tax Credit (ITC). The credit is neither transferable nor refundable.

2.603 Vanpool Credit

Domestic and foreign corporations are allowed to take a credit of 30% of the cost incurred during the taxable year for the purchase or lease of company shuttle vans used in the Commonwealth as part of an employer-sponsored ridesharing program. The shuttle vans must be used for transporting employees. This credit is neither transferable nor refundable, and cannot be carried forward.

2.604 Research Credit

A credit is allowed for corporations which made basic research payments and/or incurred qualified research expenses conducted in Massachusetts during the taxable year. A corporation taking the research credit is limited in the amount that can be taken against the excise in any year. The credit cannot reduce the tax to less than $456. The amount of credit is equal to: 100% of the first $25,000 of excise; and 75% of any amount of excise remaining after the first $25,000. The deduction allowed to a corporation for any research expenses generating a Massachusetts Research Credit must be reduced by the amount of the credit generated. This amount is added back to income. Any corporation which is a member of a combined group may share excess research credits with other members of the combined group. Corporations which are members of a controlled group or which are under common control with any trade or business (whether or not incorporated) are treated as a single taxpayer for purposes of determining the allowable Research Credit. The credit may be carried forward for up to 15 years with certain restrictions, but is neither transferable nor refundable.

As a result of recent legislation, effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2015, a business corporation may elect to calculate its research credit using one of two methods:

The first method revises the existing research credit by changing two definitions that affect the calculation of the credit, i.e., the definitions of "base amount" and "fixed base rate". The "base amount" is now defined as "the product of (i) the average annual gross receipts of the taxpayer for the 4 taxable years preceding the credit year"; and (ii) a 'fixed base ratio'." The "fixed-base ratio" is no longer tied to a corporation's aggregate Massachusetts qualified research expenditures for a fixed 5 year period during the 1980s. It is now defined as "the percentage which the average aggregate qualified research expenses for the taxpayer for the third and fourth taxable years preceding the credit year is of the annual average gross receipts for those years, provided, however, that the fixed base ratio shall not exceed 16 per cent". The amount of the credit is equal to the sum of 10% of the excess, if any, of the qualified research expenses for the taxable year over the base amount plus 15% of the basic research expenses determined under I.R.C. § 41(e)(1)(A).

The second method, which a taxpayer may elect to use in lieu of the method described above, provides for an alternative simplified research credit, which generally conforms to the methodology of the federal alternative simplified credit provided by I.R.C. § 41(c)(5), as amended and in effect for January 1, 2014.

2.605 Economic Development Incentive Program Credit

Under the provisions of the Economic Development Incentive Program (EDIP) established pursuant to M.G.L. c. 23A, the Economic Assistance Coordination Council (EACC) may authorize taxpayers participating in certified projects to claim tax credits under M.G.L. Ch. 62 § 6(g) and M.G.L. Ch. 63 § 38N. To be eligible, a project must be certified by EACC. The total dollar amount of the EDIP credit that may be authorized in a calendar year is $30 million. From 2011 to 2016, the annual cap included amounts awarded pursuant to the certified housing development program authorized by G.L. c. 40V. See item 2.622.

For projects certified prior to January 1, 2010:

The certified project must be in an economic opportunity area and the credit is 5% of the cost of any property that qualified for the investment tax credit (ITC) allowed by G.L. c. 63, § 31A. To qualify for the 5% credit, the property must be used exclusively in a certified project within an economic opportunity area. The credit may be carried forward for up to 10 years or indefinitely with certain restrictions. The credit is neither transferable nor refundable.

For projects certified on or after January 1, 2010 and before January 1, 2017: The EDIP credits must be awarded by the EACC and those credits are no longer limited to 5% of the cost of qualifying property (could be up to 40% of the cost of qualifying property). Further, it was no longer required that all certified projects be in an economic opportunity area. The EDIP credit for certain projects, if authorized by the EACC, may be refundable at the option of the taxpayer. This credit is not transferable.

For job creation projects certified on or after January 1, 2015 and before January 1, 2017: The EDIP credit provisions have been expanded to include certified job creation projects. Individuals and entities pursuing certified job creation projects may be awarded a credit of up to $1,000 per job created (up to $5,000 in some instances) The total award per project may not exceed $1 million. The credit for a certified job creation project is allowed for the year subsequent to that in which the jobs are created.

For projects certified on or after January 1, 2017:

The amount of credit is determined by the EACC based on factors set out in M.G.L. c. 23A, § 3D. In addition, there are no limitations on the maximum amount of the credit awarded. The EACC may designate the credit as refundable for any certified project (subject to a $5 million limitation per year) and may specify the timing of the refund. For further information, see TIR 16-15. The credit is not transferable.

Finally, "An Act Relative to Economic Development in the Commonwealth" authorizes EACC to establish a program to incentivize businesses to occupy vacant storefronts in downtown areas. Pursuant to this program, the EACC may award up to $500,000 of available EDIP tax credits annually to businesses that occupy previously vacant storefronts. The businesses will not be required to invest in improvements or create new jobs. Rather, the businesses need only commit to occupying the previously vacant storefront for a period of not less than one year. The credit may be carried forward for up to 5 years, but is neither refundable nor transferable.

2.608 Brownfields Credit

Taxpayers are allowed to take a credit for amounts expended to rehabilitate contaminated property owned or leased for business purposes and located within an economically distressed area.

Recent legislation extends the Brownfields credit to nonprofit organizations, extends the time frame for eligibility for the credit, and permits the credit to be transferred, sold, or assigned. Under prior law, net response and removal costs incurred by a taxpayer between August 1, 1998 and August 5, 2005, were eligible for the credit provided that the environmental response action before August 5, 2005. As a result of the recent legislation, the environmental response action commencement cut-off date is changed from August 5, 2005 to August 5, 2018, and the time for incurring eligible costs that qualify for the credit is extended to January 1, 2019. See TIR 13-15 for more information. Most recently, Chapter 99 of the Acts of 2018 extended the deadline for "commencement" to August 5, 2013 and set the period for incurring costs to between August 1, 1998 and January 1, 2024.

The credit may be carried forward for up to 5 years. The amount of the credit varies according to the extent of the environmental remedy. If the taxpayer's permanent solution or remedy operation status includes an activity and use limitation, then the amount of the credit is 25% of the net response and removal costs incurred by the taxpayer. However, if there is no activity and use limitation, then the amount of the credit is 50% of the net response and removal costs.

2.609 Low Income Housing Credit

The Low-Income Housing Tax Credit (LIHTC) is administered through the Massachusetts Department of Housing and Community Development (DHCD). The LIHTC is a five year, non-refundable credit available to corporate excise and personal income taxpayers for the construction or development of new low income housing, or the preservation and improvement of existing state or federally-assisted housing. The amount of credit that Massachusetts taxpayers may claim for a qualified Massachusetts project is allocated by the DHCD and is subject to an annual cap of $125 million through 2024, and $50 million thereafter (unless otherwise authorized by DHCD). The LIHTC is not subject to the 50% limitation rule for corporate taxpayers. If the taxpayer disposes of the property generating the LIHTC, a portion of the credit is subject to recapture.

Under prior law, the Massachusetts low-income housing tax credits were available only to taxpayers who had been allocated federal low-income housing tax credits. However, effective August 1, 2010, the legislature authorized DHCD to grant state low-income housing tax credits (within the annual cap) to otherwise eligible projects that do not receive a federal low-income housing credit.

The LIHTC is a transferable, non-refundable, five year credit, which may be carried forward for up to 5 years.

Effective January 1, 2017, the LIHTC expanded to also provide a non-refundable, single year tax credit for corporate excise and personal income taxpayers that donate real or personal property to certain non-profit entities for use in purchasing, constructing, or rehabilitating a qualified Massachusetts project. This credit is generally limited to 50% but may be increased to 65% of the amount of the donation. The credit must be claimed in the year that the qualifying donation is made and credit amounts that exceed the tax due may be carried forward for up to five years. For further information, see TIR 16-15.

2.610 Historic Buildings Rehabilitation Credit

To claim historic rehabilitation tax credit ("HRTC"), a historic rehabilitation project must be complete and have been certified by the Massachusetts Historical Commission (MHC), which determines the amount of qualifying expenditures. Filers may claim up to 20% of their qualified rehabilitation expenditures.

Unused portions of the HRTC may be carried forward for up to 5 years and transferred or sold to another taxpayer, but are not refundable. Additionally, HRTC awards generally may be transferred. The HRTC is not subject to the 50% limitation rule for corporate taxpayers. If the taxpayer disposes of the property generating the HRC, a portion of the credit may be subject to recapture.

The expenditure for this item (combined with the Historic Rehabilitation Credit for personal income tax filers, item 1.610) was originally capped at $15 million per year, with a start date for the credit of January 1, 2005 and an end date of December 31, 2009. Chapter 123 of the Acts of 2006 extended the availability of the credit for an additional 2 years, to December 31, 2011. Again, Chapter 131 of the Acts of 2010 extended the availability of the credit for an additional 6 years to December 31, 2017, with an annual cap of $50 million. Chapter 165 of the Acts of 2014 further extends this credit, including the $50 million annual limit, for an additional five years to December 31, 2022.

Effective August 13, 2014, MHC is allowed, subject to certain criteria, to transfer HRC awards to taxpayers subject to the personal income tax imposed by G.L.c. 62 that acquire a qualified historic structure. In the case of a multi-phased project the MHC is allowed to transfer HRC awards for any phase that meets the criteria. Effective August 10, 2016, such transfer is also allowed for taxpayers subject to the corporation excise under G.L. c. 63. See TIR 14-13 and 16-15.

Enacted in May, 2018, chapter 99 of the Acts of 2018 increased the annual cap to $55 million, which is effective January 1, 2018.

2.614 Film (or Motion Picture) Credit

For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2006 and before January 1, 2023, Massachusetts allows two credits for motion picture production companies who meet certain qualification requirements. Production companies who incur at least $50,000 of production costs in Massachusetts are eligible for income and corporate excise tax credits equal to 25% of the total Massachusetts payroll for the production, excluding salaries of $1 million and higher. In addition, production companies whose Massachusetts production expenses exceed 50% of the total production cost receive an income and corporate excise tax credit of 25% of the total Massachusetts production expense. Supporting documentation is available to the Department of Revenue upon request.

This tax credit is refundable at 90% of the approved credit amounts by the written election of the taxpayer or may be carried forward for up to 5 years. In addition, all or any portion of tax credits issued may be transferred, sold or assigned to other taxpayers with tax liabilities under chapter 62 (the individual income tax) or chapter 63 (the corporate or other business excise taxes). For applications submitted prior to January 1, 2007, film tax credits were capped at $7 million for any one motion picture production; for applications submitted on or after January 1, 2007, there is no cap. Also, the sunset date for the film incentives statute has been extended from January 1, 2013 to January 1, 2023. See TIR 07-15 for more details.

2.617 Life Sciences Tax Incentive Program

On June 16, 2008, "An Act Providing for the Investment in and Expansion of the Life Sciences Industry in the Commonwealth" was passed. The Act established the Life Sciences Tax Incentive Program which initially included, among other things, the following credits: the life sciences research credit, the life sciences refundable research credit, the life sciences refundable investment tax credit, and the life sciences FDA user fees credit, effective from January 1, 2009 through December 31, 2018, which was later extended to December 31, 2028. Effective January 1, 2011, the life sciences refundable jobs credit was added to this program. Since the tax expenditures under this line item will be subject to approval and their composition will differ from year-to-year, it is not known what proportion will be in the form of corporate tax credits as opposed to income tax credits. However, because the Department of Revenue believes that the largest portion of the tax expenditures described in this line item will be in the form of corporate tax credits, it has placed it in this section of the tax expenditure budget. Except for the life sciences research credit, the other credits are refundable up to 90%.

Effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2017, an angel investor credit is allowed for individual income taxpayers. The credit will be administered within the cumulative cap of $25 million for all the life sciences incentives. See St. 2016, c. 219, § 72; TIR 16-15.

Accordingly, the addition of the angel investor credit is reflected in the tax expenditure estimation of the life sciences tax incentive program, though the angel investor credit will be claimed by individual income taxpayers.

The Chapter 154 of the Acts of 2018 increased the cap from $4 million.

A taxpayer who holds a certificate of registration as a dairy farmer pursuant to M.G.L. Ch. 94, sec. 16A is allowed to take a refundable tax credit based on the amount of milk produced and sold. 2.620 Employer Wellness Program Tax Credit

The 2012 Health Care Act established an Employer Wellness Program Tax Credit that was effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2013 and set to expire on December 31, 2017. The Employer Wellness Program Tax Credit was created to provide incentives for business to recognize the benefits of wellness programs with the goal of providing smaller businesses with an expanded opportunity to implement these programs. The credit is available to both chapter 62 and chapter 63 taxpayers (personal income taxpayers and corporate & business excise taxpayers).

The credit is set at 25 percent of the costs associated with implementing a "certified wellness program." The maximum amount of Employer Wellness Program Credits available to a taxpayer is $10,000 in any tax year. The total amount of Employer Wellness Program Credits authorized by the DPH is subject to a $15 million annual cap starting calendar year 2013. The Employer Wellness Program Tax Credit is neither refundable nor transferrable. However, the portion of the Employer Wellness Program Tax Credit that exceeds the tax for the taxable year may be carried forward and applied against such taxpayer's tax liability in any of the succeeding 5 taxable years. DPH has promulgated a regulation, 105 CMR 216.000, entitled Massachusetts Wellness Tax Credit Incentive, which sets forth criteria for authorizing and certifying the credit.

2.621 Community Investment Tax Credit

The 2012 Jobs Act provides a Community Investment Tax Credit that is effective January 1, 2014 and is set to expire on December 31, 2019. However, St. 2018, chapter 99, § 25 extended the sunset date for the credit to year 2025. The credit was created to enable local residents and stakeholders to work with and through community development corporations to partner with nonprofit, public and private entities to improve economic opportunities for low and moderate income households and other residents in urban, rural and suburban communities across the commonwealth. The credit is available to both chapter 62 and chapter 63 taxpayers (personal income taxpayers and corporate & business excise taxpayers).

The Department of Housing and Community Development will administer the credit program by: 1) issuing a certification to a taxpayer after the taxpayer makes a qualified investment; 2) authorizing a dollar amount of credit for a qualified investment; 3) developing regulations and procedures with the Department of Revenue to implement the Community Investment Credit.

The certification will be acceptable as proof that the expenditures related to such investment constitute qualified investments for purposes of the community investment credit. The Community Investment Credit is set at 50 percent of the total qualified investments made by a taxpayer in a "community partner," i.e., a "community development corporation" or a "community support organization," selected by the Department of Housing and Community Development through a competitive process. A qualified investment must be in the form of a cash contribution of at least $1,000. A taxpayer may invest in more than one community partner, but may not claim more than $1 million of credits in any single taxable year. The total amount of the credit was subject to a $3 million cap in taxable year 2014, and $6 million in each year of taxable years 2015 through 2018, $8 million in each year of taxable years 2019 and 2020, $10 million in each year of taxable years 2021 and 2022, and $12 million in each year of taxable years 2023 through 2025. This credit is refundable, but not transferrable and it could be carried over up to 5 years.

Effective August 10, 2016, the standard for determining whether a recipient of a prior community investment tax credit allocation is eligible for a subsequent allocation has changed. As of that date, a community partner is eligible to receive a subsequent community investment tax credit allocation if the Department of Housing and Community Development determines that the community partner has made a satisfactory progress towards utilizing any prior allocation it has received. Prior to this change, a community partner was required to have utilized at least 95% of its prior allocation to be eligible for a subsequent allocation. For further information, see TIR 16-15.

The credit may be up to 10% of the cost of "qualified substantial rehabilitation expenditures" of the market rate units within the projects as defined in G.L. c. 40V, § 1.

There is a $5 million ($10 million from January 1, 2015 to December 31, 2023) cap on the amount of credit that may be awarded under the program in a calendar year. Before 2017, the cap was part of an overall $25 million ($30 million for 2015 and 2016) cap imposed on the Economic Development Incentive Program (EDIP) credit authorized pursuant to G.L. c. 62 § 6(g) and c. 63, 38N.

Effective January 1, 2017, the certified housing development tax credit is available for 25% of "qualified project expenditures" instead of 10% of "qualified substantial rehabilitation expenditures." The carry forward period for which the credit can be used is changed from 5 to 10 years. In addition, the annual cap is no longer a part of the overall annual cap imposed on the EDIP. Introduction - Sales Tax

Massachusetts imposes a sales and use tax on retail sales. In addition to the sales and use tax, there are several separate excises, each limited to a particular type of commodity. These special excises have not been included in this tax expenditure budget.

The Massachusetts sales and use tax, first imposed in 1966, was levied at a rate of 5%. Effective on and after August 1, 2009, the rate was changed from 5% to 6.25%. The sales tax applies to sales made within the state, and the use tax to property and services purchased outside of Massachusetts but intended for use within the state.

Revenue from the sales and use tax represented 23.0% of total Department of Revenue tax collections for Fiscal Year 2019, and was the second largest source of tax revenue after the income tax.

Sales and Use Tax: Basic Structure

Tax Base: For the purposes of this tax expenditure budget, we have chosen not to make any assumptions about the base of the Massachusetts sales and use tax. Some people take a narrow view of what a retail sale is, limiting the term to sales to final consumers, i.e., individuals. Others would include sales to businesses, especially in instances where the purchase will not become an ingredient or component in a product to be sold. In an effort to acknowledge both theories, we will simply list the various exemptions under the sales tax. Some or many of these exemptions could be considered to be properly excluded from the tax base depending upon one's point of view.

Taxable Unit: The sales and use tax is levied on the property or service to be sold or used.

Rate Structure: The sales and use tax rate is 6.25% of the price.

Taxable Period: Except for sales of motor vehicles, in which the tax is imposed and paid by the purchaser to the Registry of Motor Vehicles, the tax is imposed at the time of sale and remitted at specified intervals by the vendor. The use tax is paid directly to the Department of Revenue by the user of the item, and may be paid annually or more often (typically monthly).

Interstate and International Aspects: Massachusetts applies the destination principle to international and interstate sales. Accordingly, exports are exempt and imports are taxable under the sales and use tax. Statutory exemptions for exports of property and for services used outside of the Commonwealth are therefore not listed as tax expenditures.

* A purchaser is also responsible for paying use tax directly to the Commonwealth on the sales price of taxable property or services purchased out-of-state and stored, used, or otherwise consumed in the Commonwealth, provided that a sales and use tax of 6.25% or more has not been paid separately to another state.

Types of Tax Expenditures under the Sales and Use Tax

In the case of the sales and use tax, all tax expenditures are of a single type. They all result from the exclusion of certain transactions from the taxable base. The exclusion can be based on any of a number of characteristics of the transaction - who the buyer is, who the seller is, what the product or service is, what the product or service will be used for, etc. - but structurally all such tax expenditures operate in the same way. Hence, we have omitted the designation of tax expenditure types from the descriptions in this section.

Appendix A - Recent Law Changes Affecting Tax Expenditures

Fiscal Year 2021 Tax Expenditure Budget – Appendix A Recent Law Changes Affecting Tax Expenditures

The following tax expenditures have been revised or created due to recent law changes:

The Personal Income Tax:

Note on the impact of recent Federal Law changes:

On December 22, 2017, Public Law 115-97, commonly known as the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act (TCJA) was signed into law. The TCJA provides for federal changes to a variety of provisions in the IRC that affect the personal income tax.

As a general rule, Massachusetts does not adopt any federal personal income tax law changes incorporated into the IRC after January 1, 2005. However, certain specific Massachusetts personal income tax provisions, as set forth in MGL ch 62, s. 1(c), automatically conform to the current IRC. Provisions of the IRC Massachusetts adopts on a current basis are:

- Roth IRAs;
- IRAs;
- The exclusion for gain on the sale of a principal residence;
- Trade or business expenses;
- Travel expenses;
- Meals and entertainment expenses;
- The maximum deferral amount of government employees' deferred compensation plans;
- The deduction for health insurance costs of self-employed taxpayers;
- Medical and dental expenses;
- Annuities;
- Health savings accounts;
- Employer-provided health insurance coverage;
- Amounts received by an employee under a health and accident plan; and
- Contributions to qualified tuition programs.

Since Massachusetts automatically conforms to any change in the above tax items, any existing tax expenditures in the state's Tax Expenditure Budget (TEB) that is calculated based on Federal estimates will reflect the impact of those changes. DOR will continue to review the impact of tax law changes at the federal level, and will update future TEBs as necessary.

- Treatment of Business Related Entertainment Expenses — IRC sec. 274 (TE Item 1.019) Prior to passage of the TCJA, a business was allowed to take a deduction of up to 50% of the cost of business-related entertainment expenses. Generally, the value of the entertainment was not taxed as income to the persons who benefit from the expenditures. The effect provided the hosts and their guests with a nontaxable fringe benefit. With the passage of TCJA, entertainment expenses are no longer allowed as a federal deduction. Massachusetts adopts this change as Massachusetts follows the current IRC in effect for trade or business expenses under IRC s. 62(a)(1).
- Eligible 529 Plan Expenses, IRC s. 529 (TE Item 1.041) New provisions allow 529 plan account funds to be used for elementary or secondary school expenses, up to $10,000 per year. Massachusetts adopts this change as Massachusetts follows the current IRC with respect to IRC s. 529. See TIR 18-14 for more information.

*Other Tax Changes*Parking, Combined Commuter Highway Vehicle Transportation and T-Pass Fringe Benefit (TE Item 1.030):

Massachusetts follows Code s. 132(f) as amended and in effect as of January 1, 2005. For taxable years beginning in 2020, the Massachusetts monthly exclusion amounts are $270 for employer-provided parking and $140 for combined transit pass and commuter highway vehicle transportation benefits. Under Massachusetts law, these numbers reflect an inflation adjustment but do not include the increase in the federal monthly exclusion amount for the combined transit pass and commuter highway vehicle transportation benefits that was signed into law on December 18, 2015. For further discussion, see TIR 19-16.

Modifications to the Abandoned Building Deduction (TE Item 1.204):

Effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2019, the statute no longer requires the abandoned buildings be located in “Economic Opportunity Areas” designated by the Economic Assistance Coordinating Council (“EACC”) to be eligible for the abandoned building deduction. Instead, the EACC need only “certify” the abandoned building project. MGL ch 62, s. 3B(a)(10). For more information see TIR 18-13.

Increase in the Massachusetts Earned Income Tax Credit (TE Item 1.605):

Effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2019, the amount of the Massachusetts EITC an individual may claim is 30% of the computed federal credit. For a person who is a non-resident for part of the taxable year, the EITC will be limited to 30% of the federal credit multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of days in the taxable year the person resided in the Commonwealth and the denominator of which is the total number of days in the taxable year. For more information see TIR 18-13.

Circuit Breaker Tax Credit Increased (TE Item 1.609):

A credit is allowed to certain qualified owners and renters of residential property located in Massachusetts equal to the amount by which the real estate tax payment or 25% of the rent constituting real estate tax payment exceeds 10% of the taxpayer’s total income, not to exceed $1,130 (for tax year 2019). The amount of the credit is subject to limitations based on the taxpayer’s total income and the assessed value of the real estate, which cannot exceed $808,000. For tax year 2019, an eligible taxpayer’s total income cannot exceed $60,000 in the case of a single filer who is not a head of household filer, $75,000 for a head of household filer, and $90,000 for joint filers. In order to qualify for the credit, a taxpayer must be age 65 or older and must occupy the property as his or her principal residence. See TIR 19-13 for more information.

Increase in the Annual Amount of Dairy Farm Credits Available (TE Item 1.614):

The total cumulative amount of dairy farm credits authorized for personal income tax and corporate excise purposes was increased from $4 million annually to $6 million annually. For more information see TIR 18-13.

Apprentice Tax Credit (TE item 1.621):

St. 2018, c. 228, an “Act Relative to Economic Development in the Commonwealth” established an apprentice credit for individual and corporate taxpayers. The credit is awarded to employers registered with the division of apprentice standards as apprenticeship-program sponsors and who have entered into an apprentice agreement with each apprentice for whom the credit is claimed. Employers that claim the credit in a taxable year will be eligible for an additional credit in the following year. The credit is equal to the lesser of $4,800 or 50% of the wages paid to the apprentice for each apprentice. The total cumulative amount of credits authorized annually is $2.5 million. The credit is refundable but non-transferable. The credit is available as of January 1, 2019.

The Corporate and Other Business Excise:

Some Miscellaneous Federal Tax Law Changes (due to The Tax Cuts and Jobs Act) which Affects Massachusetts Corporate and Business Tax. Enacted on December 22, 2017

- The charitable deduction is no longer allowed for contributions to a college or university in exchange for athletic event seating rights.
- General depreciation system period for farming equipment and machinery placed into service after December 31, 2017 changed from 7 years to 5 years. In addition, such equipment may also be depreciated using the 200% declining balance method.
- An electing real property trade or business must use the alternative depreciation system for its residential or nonresidential real property. The alternative depreciation system period for nonresidential real property remains 40 years, while the period for residential real property is now 30 years.

Economic Development Incentive Program Credits for Taxpayers that Occupy Previously Vacant Storefronts

The Economic Development Incentive Program ("EDIP") is a tax incentive program designed to foster full-time job creation and stimulate business growth throughout the Commonwealth. Generally, pursuant to the EDIP, business and individual taxpayers may receive state and local tax incentives in exchange for job creation and investment commitments. The EDIP is administered by the Economic Assistance Coordinating Council (the "EACC"), which is authorized to award up to $30 million annually in EDIP tax credits. The Economic Development Act authorizes the EACC to, "by guideline or regulation, establish a program to incentivize businesses to occupy vacant storefronts in downtown areas." Pursuant to this program, the EACC may award up to $500,000 of available EDIP tax credits annually, on a competitive basis, to businesses that occupy previously vacant storefronts. Unlike other EDIP tax credits, the businesses will not be required to invest in improvements or create new jobs. Rather, the businesses need only commit to occupying the previously vacant storefront for a period of not less than one year. In determining how to allocate the credits, the EACC will consider a variety of factors, including, but not limited to: (i) the number of jobs to be created, (ii) the volume of pedestrian traffic to be generated, (iii) potential synergy with other downtown businesses, (iv) whether there is a matching contribution from the municipality or landlord, (v) commitment to storefront improvements, and (vi) whether the municipality has made local plans or investments to revitalize the downtown. These changes are effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2019.

Apprenticeship Tax Credit

St. 2018, c. 228 adds new subsection (v) to Section 6 of G.L. c. 62, and new section 38HH to chapter 63, providing certain non-corporate and corporate employers a nontransferable, refundable credit against the personal income tax and corporate excise equal to the lesser of $4,800 or 50% of the wages paid to each qualified apprentice that the employer hires. The credit is available to any employer provided that: (1) the primary place of employment of the apprentice is in the Commonwealth; (2) the employer is registered with the division of apprentice standards as an apprenticeship program sponsor and has an apprentice agreement, as defined in G.L. c. 23 s. 11H, with each apprentice for whom the credit is claimed; and (3) the apprentice is employed as an apprentice by the employer for at least 180 calendar days in the taxable year in which the credit is claimed. Further, the apprentice must be hired and trained in certain occupations. Employers that claim the credit in a taxable year are eligible for an additional credit in the subsequent taxable year, provided that the division of apprentice standards certifies that the apprentice for whom the prior year's credit was claimed remains employed as an apprentice during the subsequent taxable year. When a credit is claimed by an employer that is a non-corporate entity, the credit shall be attributed on a pro rata basis to the owners, partners or members of the employer. The credit is effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2019.

Modifications to the Abandoned Building Deduction

G.L. c. 62 s. 3B(a)(10) and G.L. c. 63 s. 38O allow individuals and business corporations to deduct from their adjusted gross income ten percent of the costs they incur for the renovation of certain abandoned buildings. Previously, the deduction was available only for improvements to abandoned buildings located in Economic Opportunity Areas ("EOA"), as designated by the EACC. However, in 2016, the legislature enacted An Act Relative To Job Creation And Workforce Development, which eliminated the EOA requirement, and inserted the requirement that the EACC need only "certify" a project. The Economic Development Act amends G.L. c. 62 s. 3B(a)(10) and G.L. c. 63 s. 38O so that they align with the 2016 legislative changes. These changes are effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2019.

Dairy Farmer Credit

Chapter 154 of the Acts of 2018 increased the state wide cap on the dairy farmer credit from $4 million to $6 million each year for the combination of individual income taxpayers and corporate excise taxpayers. It is effective for tax years beginning on or after July 1, 2018.

Manufacturing Corporations

830 CMR 58.2.1 explains the requirements for and tax treatment of corporations that apply for manufacturing corporation classification under G.L. c. 63, s. 42B. In particular, Section (6)(e)1.b of the regulation is being amended to clarify the impact of recent tax changes in the federal Tax Cuts and Jobs Act on the gross receipts fraction used in determining manufacturing corporation classification. The amendment makes clear that income deemed to have been repatriated under amended Internal Revenue Code section 965 and "GILTI" (global intangible low-taxed income) under new Code section 951A is excluded from the fraction, eliminating the possibility of a distortion of a corporation's gross receipts and termination of the corporation's manufacturing classification. The regulation also eliminates the internal manufacturing classification appeal process in 830 CMR 58.2.1(10)(a) in order to streamline the process with that of the Appellate Tax Board to benefit both municipalities and taxpayers.

The Sales and Use Tax:

In June 2009 legislation was enacted that amended G.L. c. 64H (sales tax) and G.L. c. 64I (use tax), changing the rate of tax for sales and use of tangible personal property and telecommunications services from 5% to 6.25%. See Stat. 2009, c. 27, ss. 53, 55-57, 59. In addition, the new legislation repealed the exemption for alcoholic beverages, including beer, wine, and liquor, sold at retail by amending G.L. c. 64H, s. 6(g) to omit reference to c. 138. These changes were effective on and after August 1, 2009. See TIR 09-11 for further details.

As the result of a referendum question on the November 2, 2010 ballot, the law extending the Massachusetts sales and use tax to alcoholic beverages sold at package stores and liquor stores for off-premises consumption, which was enacted on August 1, 2009, has been repealed, effective for sales on or after January 1, 2011. See TIR 10-24 for further details.

Effective July 1, 2011, physician-prescribed, medically necessary breast pumps are exempt from sales and use tax. See St. 2011, c. 68, s. 72.

In July 2012 legislation was enacted stating explicitly that "sales that do not involve tangible personal property shall not result in tax expenditures". See St 2012, c.165, s.112. Pursuant to this legislation, from fiscal year 2014 on, we remove some items from our tax expenditure estimates, which we regularly reported in prior years. But to facilitate comparison to tax expenditure estimates in prior years, these items (3.203, 3.422, 3.501, 3.502, 3.503 and 3.504) have been listed in appendix D.

On September 27, 2013, the Governor signed a bill that repealed the expansion of the sales tax on computer software and systems design services that had been enacted by the Legislature on July 24, 2013, retroactive to its effective date, July 31, 2013.

Section 66 of St. 2014, c. 287 added subsection (d) to G.L. c. 63, s. 42B. Effective August 13, 2014, solely for the purpose of claiming the sales tax exemption available to research and development corporations under chapters 64H and 64I, ss. 6(r) and 6(s), this change allows a limited partnership that is not a business corporation, but that would otherwise qualify as a research and development corporation under s. 42B, to be considered a research and development corporation when all partners are corporations. See also TIR 14-13.

Chapter 369 of the Acts of 2012 legalized the sales of marijuana, products containing marijuana such as food, tinctures, aerosols, oils and ointments as well as related supplies or educational materials to qualifying patients or their personal caregivers in the Commonwealth by medical marijuana treatment centers. According to Directive 15-1 issued by the Department of Revenue, the sales tax exemption for medicine on prescription in G.L. c. 64H, s. 6(l) applies to sales of marijuana and products containing marijuana to a qualifying patient or the patient's personal caregiver pursuant to a written certification by a licensed physician. Any other supplies, educational materials or other items sold by the medical marijuana treatment center are subject to tax unless another exemption applies.

The estimates for tax expenditure items for sales and use tax reflect these tax law changes.

Appendix B - Tax Expenditure Glossary

Amortization: Annual deduction allowed for the gradual exhaustion or obsolescence of intangible assets having a limited useful life which are used in the production of income, such as patents and copyrights; analogous to depreciation of tangible assets.

Capital Expenditure: An expenditure made in acquiring, adding to or bettering a fixed asset. For accounting purposes, capital expenditures are not charged against current revenue. They are added to capital account or "capitalized" and then may be depreciated, amortized, or recovered when a business is sold. This concept should be distinguished from an expense.

Credit: Amount by which a taxpayer is allowed to reduce a tax liability, as computed by applying the tax rates to the tax base, to be distinguished from a deduction from the tax base.

Deduction: Amount that a taxpayer is allowed to subtract from the gross tax base.

Depreciation: Annual deduction allowed for the gradual exhaustion or obsolescence of tangible property used in the production of income.

Exclusion: The legal elimination from the tax base of items recognized as falling within its definition. The federal term for what is sometimes called an exemption for Massachusetts. (See below.)

Exemption: The legal elimination from the tax base of items or transactions recognized as falling within its definition, or of taxable units that would normally be subject to tax.

Expense: A revenue expenditure or cost, which, for accounting purposes, is charged against current revenue. To be distinguished from a capital expenditure.

Gross income: The total of all items included in the concept of income that a taxpayer receives during the taxable period.

Net income: Amount remaining after subtracting exempt income and deductions from gross income.

Personal exemption: A specific amount or percentage of net income on which the tax rate is zero. To be distinguished from an exemption as defined above, which applies to a class of income or taxpayers. Sometimes called an "allowance".

Taxable income: Amount to which the tax rates are applied in computing tax liability, after subtracting personal exemptions from net income.

Fiscal Year 2021 Tax Expenditure Budget: Appendix C
Summary Table

The following table shows tax expenditure estimates for the three major taxes from Fiscal Year 2017 to Fiscal Year 2021. In general, the revenue estimate for a tax expenditure tends to follow the anticipated growth of tax collections. However, year-to-year changes in estimates may vary for four other principal reasons: new data sources; refinements to the estimate methodology; changes to federal tax expenditure estimates which are used as the basis for many of the state tax expenditure estimates; and changes in tax laws.

Where possible, we have recalculated past estimates based on revised data, improved methodologies, and changes in statute.

Appendix D - Non-Tax Expenditure Budget Items

Fiscal Year 2021 Tax Expenditure Budget – Appendix D Non-TEB Items

In July 2012 legislation was enacted stating explicitly that “sales that do not involve tangible personal property shall not result in tax expenditures”. See St 2012, c.165, §112. Pursuant to this legislation, from fiscal year 2014 on, we remove some items from our tax expenditure estimates, which we regularly reported in prior years. But to facilitate comparison to tax expenditure estimates in prior years, we list these items in this appendix.

Items:

3.203 Exemption for Hotel/Motel Rooms

Rental charges for real property are exempt from sales tax. However, rentals of rooms in hotels, motels or lodging houses are subject to a state excise at a rate of 5.7% of the rental price, and, at a municipality’s option, to a local excise of up to 6% of the rental price (6.5% in the city of Boston). A Convention Center financing fee of 2.75% is also included in certain areas.

Origin: General exclusion of real property transactions
Estimate: $203.4

Comment: Revenues collected under the budgeted state room occupancy excise were $158.7 million in Fiscal Year 2018 and $168.8 million in Fiscal Year 2019. Beginning July 1, 2019, the room occupancy excise also applies to short-term rentals of property for 31 days or less.

3.422 Exemption for Telephone Services

Sales of residential telecommunications services of up to $30 per month are exempt from sales tax.

Origin: M.G.L. c. 64H, § 6(i)
Estimate: $27.8

Comment: Telegraph services are also exempt, but are not included in this estimate.

3.501 Nontaxation of Transfers of Real Property

Real estate is exempt from sales tax but is subject to a deeds excise at a rate of 0.456% of the taxable price of the property (0.342% in Barnstable County). The estimate represents revenues that would be collected under the sales tax if sales of real property were taxed at 6.25%.

Origin: General exclusion of real property transactions
Estimate: $4,940.4

Comment: Revenues collected under the Deeds Excise Tax (including Secretary State Deeds) were $284.5 million in Fiscal Year 2018 and $318.3 million in Fiscal Year 2019.

3.502 Nontaxation of Rentals of Real Property

Rental charges for real property, whether for residential or business purposes, are exempt from sales tax.

Origin: General exclusion of real property transactions
Estimate: $2,042.2

Comment: This estimate excludes rentals of hotel/motel rooms, which are separately stated under item 3.203.

3.503 Nontaxation of Certain Services

Certain services are not subject to sales tax. This estimate includes a range of services to individuals and businesses which are excluded from taxation by their omission from the statutory definition of services.

Origin: M.G.L. c. 64H § 1
Estimate: $14,167.1

3.504 Nontaxation of Internet Access and Related Services

Internet access services, electronic mail services, electronic bulletin board services, web hosting services or similar on-line computer services are not subject to the sales and use tax.

Origin: M.G.L. c. 64H § 1
Estimate: $190.2
